NINETEEN SIXTY-SEVEN

QUINSIGAMOND
COMMUNITY COLLEGE

WORCESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

Quinsigamond Community College provides an atmosphere to fit our varying moods. Surrounded by friendship and hospitality, we are prepared for our future responsibilities. We thus present to you our school: its aspirations, its dreams, its realities . . .

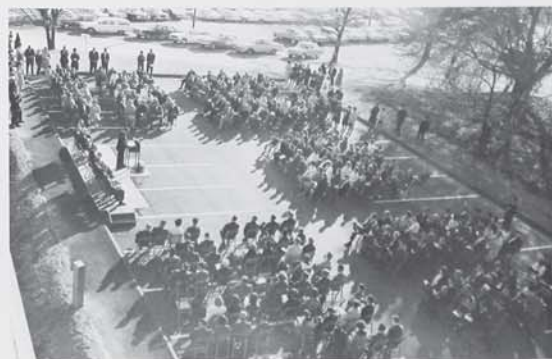

Growth . . .

It has been said that growth is the only evidence of life. Quinsigamond is a growing thing, and, most important, it is a vital, living thing.

Relationships . . .

When opinions are expressed, ideas freely discussed, and experiences shared, a harmonious, close-knit whole is achieved.

Study . . .

Knowledge is a step on the long road towards understanding.

Relaxation . . .

The leisure hours of each day are often the most anticipated before they arrive, the most pleasurable while they're here, and the most delightful to reflect upon after they've gone.

Elation . . .

The perfect delight of a single care-free moment is best expressed in the faces of those who experience its joy.

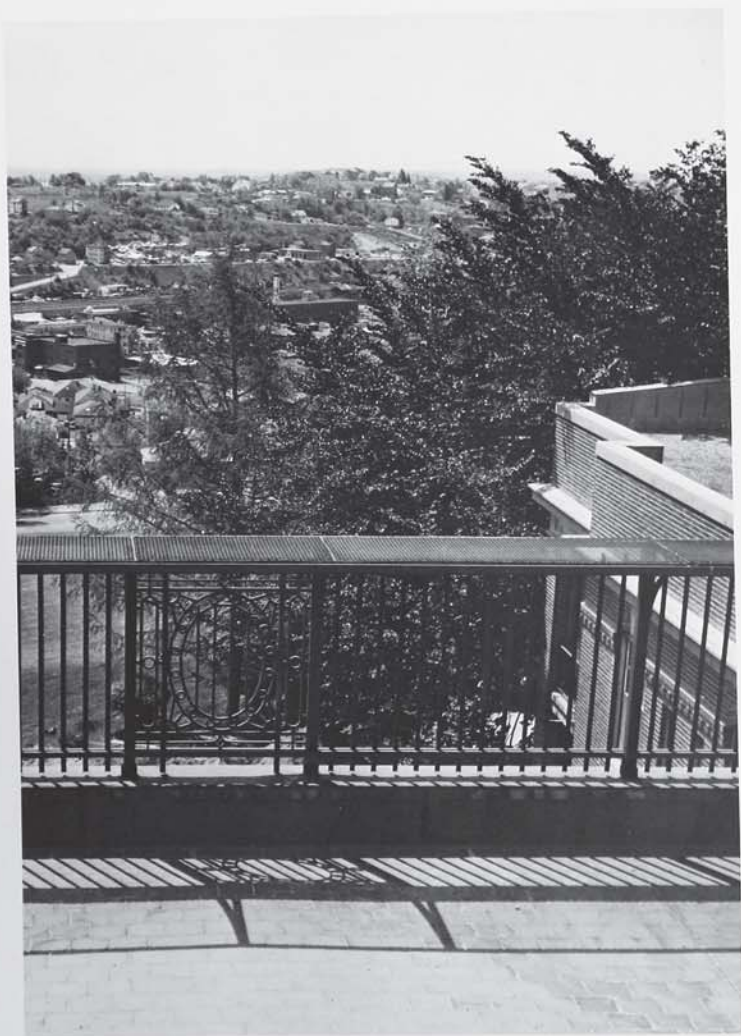

Achievement . . .

Reaching a goal, whether universal or personal, is the ultimate aim of man.

And Beyond . . .

His Excellency, Governor John A. Volpe Massachusetts Board of Regional Community Colleges

Dedication

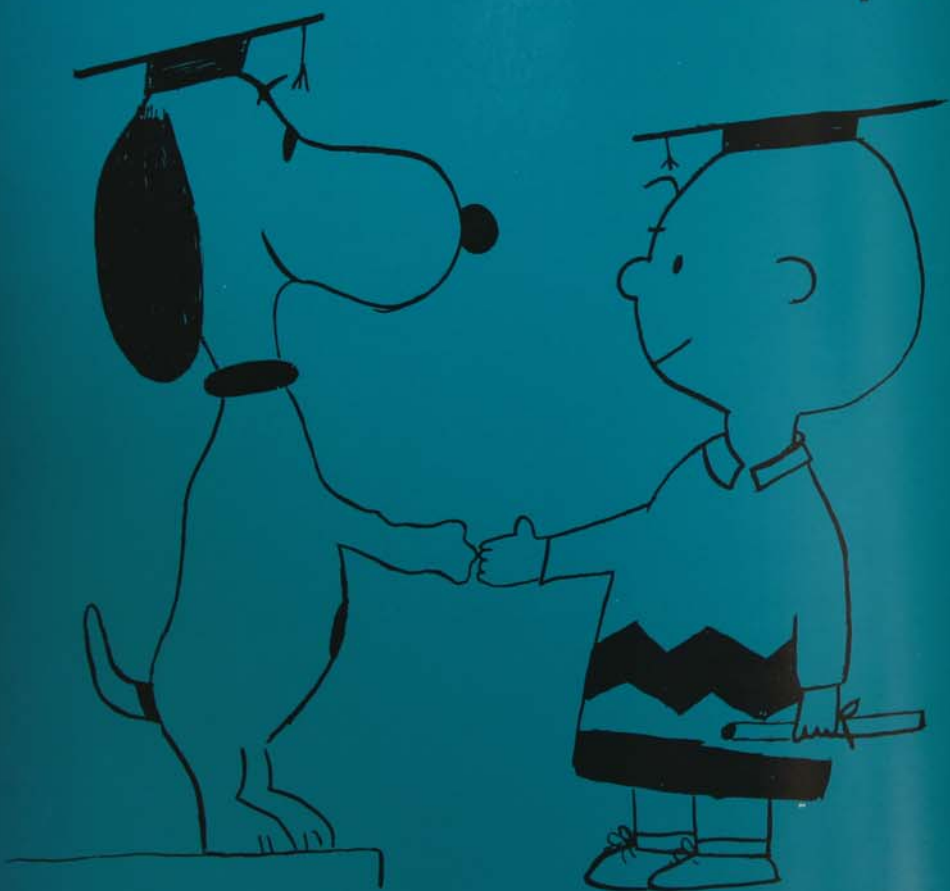

PAUL G. PREUS

We, the Class of 1967, have proudly chosen to dedicate our "Signet" to the one person whom we recognize as having contributed most significantly to the development and growth of Quinsigamond Community College and to the education and advancement of its students. With a background of vast and astonishingly diverse experience as an educator and administrator, he came to Quinsigamond upon its formation in 1963 and has since worked devotedly for the benefit of the college and its students. His efforts to secure for Quinsig students the highest quality education that a junior college can afford have been vigorous, constant, and impressively successful. This fact combined with his natural interest and concern for the students, both individually and collectively, have earned him our genuine respect and affection. Under his expert leadership, Quinsigamond has become the truly fine institution that it is today and promises to continue to be in the future. It is, then, with deep gratitude and sincere appreciation that we dedicate our "Signet" of nineteen hundred and sixty-seven to Paul G. Preus, President of Quinsigamond Community College.

In Appreciation

The class of 1967 of Quinsigamond Community College wishes to extend its sincerest appreciation to the faculty, staff and administration of the college for their cooperation and guidance during our two years at the school.

We would also like to extend our thanks to Mrs. Fox, Peter Vuluytin and the entire staff at the photography studio of Denholm and McKay Company, as well as to Dick Lowe, our representative from Taylor Publishing Company, for their extreme patience in the publishing of the 1967 "Signet".

Lectures And Performances

Under the chairmanship of Professor Margaret Watson the Lectures and Performances Committee has been responsible for the planning and co-ordination of a series of cultural programs for the benefit of Quinsigamond College students. In the past two years the joint student-faculty committee has provided us with such distinguished lecturers as United States Senator Edward M. Brooke, poet John Malcolm Brinnin, artist John Gregoropoulos and Doctor Russel Kirk. Performances have been given by the Don Cossack Chorus, Herb Pomeroy's Jazz Quintet, and pianist Malcolm Frager. The efforts of this committee has been extensive and extremely successful. The members deserve our sincere appreciation and thanks.

Committee Plans Lecture Program

The Lectures and Performances Committee has announced the schedule of speakers for the coming year. On October 6, the Don Cossack Choir, under the direction of Nicholas Kostrukoff, will present a musical program.

The Herb Pomeroy Jazz Quartet will perform at the November President's Hour. Mr. Pomeroy will discuss the contemporary jazz idiom and illustrate some of his points with the Quartet's playing.

Henry Steele Commager, professor of History at Harvard University, has been invited to speak in December, but his appearance is not yet definite.

The noted spokesman for conservatism in American policy, Russell Kirk, will address the student body in March. Mr. Kirk, the author of Prospects for Conservatives, will speak on "Liberalism and American Foreign Policy." The presentation of the contrasting views of Professor Commager, a moderate, and Mr. Kirk will give students the opportunity to increase their understanding of current political controversy.

The Committee is planning to invite a folk singer for the President's Hour on May 19.

Artist Displays Colors Effects

Paul Zelanski, artist and Instructor of Art in the University of Connecticut's School of Fine Arts, lectured at the Little Theatre on Friday, April 14, from 11 a.m. to 12 noon. His lecture, entitled, "Color: A Psychic Energizer," was illustrated with appropriate slides. The event was the second in the spring lecture series of Quinsigamond Community College.

Social Committee

The Social Committee, under the direction of Arthur B. Krupnick, has provided us with many and varied activities throughout our two years at Quinsigamond. This committee plans such events as the annual picnic, Winter Carnival Weekend and Spring Formal, and their efforts in organizing and coordinating these events have been vastly appreciated by all students.

Ski Club

The Quinsigamond Community College Ski Club was organized to bring a group of interested students together who wished to increase their skiing pleasures and abilities. Each year the club plans a trip to one of the major areas of New England, and these trips are enjoyed by all!

Class

After two years as students at Quinsigamond Community College, we, the Class of 1967, are now able to look back and reflect upon the number of varied experiences that have combined to create a history which, though almost too brief, has been in some way significant to each one of us. We can remember how, as Freshmen, we suffered through the confusion and apprehension of that first registration period and those early weeks of classes, and how, after finally settling down to a more or less regular routine, we found that routine disrupted, first by mid-term exams and then by finals.

Having survived that first semester, we found it easier to appreciate the non-academic side of life at Quinsig. Memorable highlights such as the annual picnic with rain, the winter carnival without snow, and that unforgettable frolic in room 400 have worked to create a strong sense of student unity and companionship. We will not soon forget the feeling of triumph experienced by us all as a result of the success of our musical, "Guys and Dolls".

The efforts of students and faculty combined to make this one of the major events of the school year.

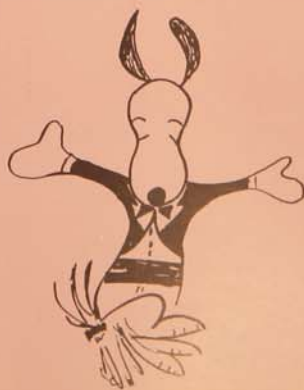

History

The memory of the Spring Formal, "The Shadow of Your Smile", will remain with us long after all of our term papers have turned to dust.

It is, then, with a sense of anxious expectation that we look forward to the events of the coming spring. In the few remaining months, the picnic at the Glen Ellen Country Club, the production of "Endgame", and the Spring Formal at the Sheraton in Boston, promise to bring these two years to a memorable close.

It is important to realize, however, that our experience at Quinsigamond has been more than a mere chronology of events. The relationships formed and the knowledge gained have served to enrich our lives immeasurably, and it is with a sense of true fulfillment that we can now look to the future.

I

I am the center of the universe;
I have journeyed through the space of time,
I am a part of the blackness.
I have become a part of the moon,
From where I spit on the earth.

I am the eye of the storm.
I travel at a speed greater than sound
In order to spread evil
And death,
And destruction,
And love.

I have journeyed to the center of the earth;
 I have seen all,
 And I have seen nothing.
 I have met the whale;
 I have crushed it with a sardine.
 I have kicked death in the face.
 And laughed.

I am the center of the raindrop
 From which germs emanate;
 The food of the gods am I.
 I have taken one Lay's potato chip,
 And stopped.

Richard Jandrow
 (The Quill—1966)

"The most anterior portion of the digestive tract in mammals is composed of a mouth cavity in which food is chewed and a pharynx with muscular walls which contract, forcing food into the esophagus leading to the stomach."

"All vertebrate animals have a vertebral column, consisting of a series of separate bones, each called a vertebra. In life they are spaced out by pads of connective tissues called intervertebral discs."

"Like my new contact lenses kids"

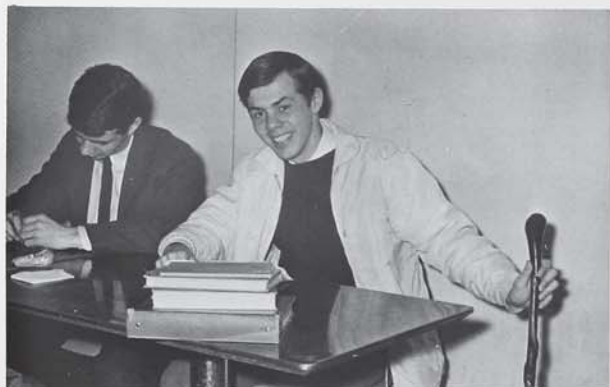

"Don't argue! You know I've got more hair than you do."

CLOUDS OF GIN

The drunk
With winter heavy on his shoulders
Staggers.
A formless shadow
From years of misuse and disuse
A brother to the night
Is found only by the night,
Tries to lose himself in the night,
For the night will still caress him.
Fortune has others to greet
And no one ever says goodbye
Besides the tear
That might remember a youth
That meets the gutter
Before the crust and belch,
Before the bag of cloth
Who dies until the leaves of night.
His blankets, too,
Are kicked aside and
Are dampened by the rain of sun.
Then he hides again
And he dries himself in clouds of gin.

Each student is assigned a Faculty Advisor whose concern is the welfare of that student, particularly with regard to his academic progress. The student is expected to seek his Advisor's advice and counsel.

CHURCH SUPPER SATURDAY NIGHT

Church supper Saturday night, hope to see you there!

Heavens, yes! wouldn't miss it for the world.

And don't forget on Wednesday we have our canning fair.
And the auxiliary meets on Friday to discuss the Christmas drive.

Charlotte's giving flowers for the Christmas service.

Daffodils from Thomas' Flower Shoppe, I hear.

They must be lovely, I hope they don't die.

Speaking of dead, I hear the Jones' boy died last night.

They say he was shot in the head by young Rita Gillette.

She shot her husband in the shoulder, must have been quite a sight.

They say she did it 'cause she thought they were burglars,

But I just bet there's more to it than meets the eye.

You just never know with people like that, at any rate,

I knew something like that would happen,

I never trusted her anyway; always said she was that young hussy type.

The poor dear, what she must be going through.

Being pregnant and all, don't you know.

Still,

I never liked her much either.

THE SOUNDS OF UN-CONVERSATION

We stand in the midst of a salad of sounds,
its warm dressing
dripping on our eardrums.
Laughter beats a steady tattoo, background music for an awkward ballet of words and sentences which means nothing.
Bullet sounds ricochet,
from corner to corner
finally lodging themselves in our cotton-batten ears.

Human sheep bleat in unison—
afraid to improvise;
they can only chant ba ba ba a monotonous ode to the thumbtacks of life.

Lonely words still looking for a skull with a welcome mat,
tremble,
ring the doorbell of my eardrum, run, hide, and tremble some more.

Paper airplanes of sound drop condescending messages
like care packages,
and both burst into noisy flames
as they smash to the ground.

A tonic chord of I, I, and I is sung in the key of I Major by those whose favorite audience is a minor.

I am tired of footprints
on my earlobes.

Won't you join me now

as I pour cement into my ears?

8:39½—

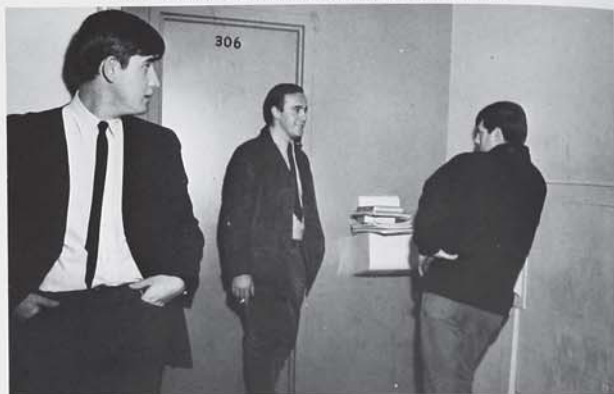

"Hurry up and sign in before he comes!"

Our nursing course is one of the most thorough—it guarantees you'll get the point.

"Put the dice away you guys. Here comes Dr. Houlihan!"

"At least my ears don't get dirty this way."

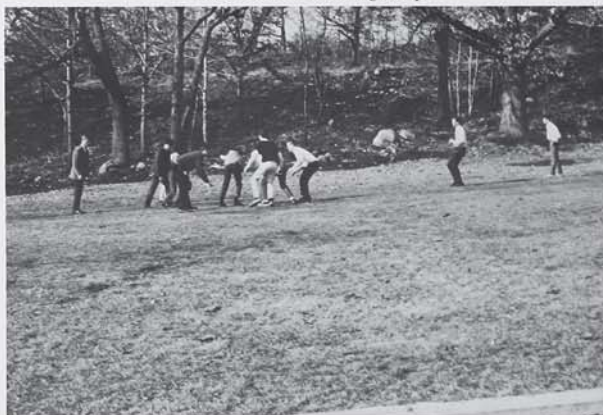

"Hey Nancy, check out the pants on that guy!"

"Wait kids . . . wait . . . they're going to change the marks after all."

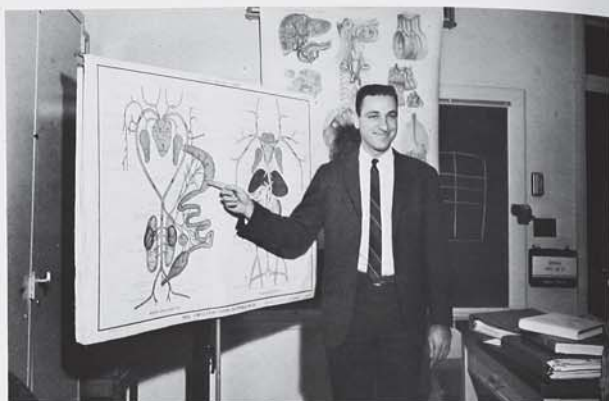

New York Giant Training Camp.

Peanut . . Butter???

"Heh! Heh! guess what this is kids."

Harvey . . . watch where you put your hand.

"Good idea . . . but you're wrong."

"Wow! Did you see that ... 38 ... 22 ..."

"You shouldn't have gone to pieces over me."

"So you think God is dead huh!"
