LEARN TO:
write resume
plan job search

Speaker:
MAUREEN JONES-RYAN (Quinsigamond College)

Wed., March 12
12:30 P.M.
Marlboro High School Auditorium
Public Invited

sponsored by the Marlboro Public Library

THE JOB HUNT

MUST

THURSDAY, MARCH 13, 1975

SOUTH MIDDLESEX DAILY

The News
Hudson
Marlboro Edition

Vol. 4 No. 143

SERVING ASHDORF, BEcket, BRIDGEWATER, BRISTOL, BROOKLINE, CHICOPEE, CHINCHETAUGA, CONCORD, FARMINGHAM, FRANKLIN, HOLLISTON, HOPKINTON, HUDSON, MARLBORO, MEDFIELD, MEDWAY, MILLS, NATICK, NORTHBOROUGH, SHREWSBURY, SOUTHBOROUGH, Sudbury, WAYLAND, WESTBORO

10 CENTS

44 PAGES -- 2 SECTIONS"
Job hunters program scheduled March 12

MARLBORO — A program for job hunters will be presented by the Marlborough Public Library on Wednesday, March 12, at 11:30 a.m. in the Marlborough High School auditorium.

Marvin Jones, director of the job placement center at Quinsigamond Community College, will speak on the topic "Organizing an Effective Job Search" and will instruct interested participants on resume writing, interview preparation, and training for future job markets. He is the employment consultant for WMBR radio.

The program is open to the general public and to Marlborough High School students.

Durkin, Mrs. Bouchard elected in Boylston

Dispatch Office, May 8 — Mrs. John Bouchard, 78, of 81, 830 School St. was elected to the School Committee and Mrs. Mary M. Durkin, 77, of 81, 830 School St., was elected to the School Committee yesterday.

Mrs. Bouchard, who has attended all school board meetings and never missed a meeting, was defeated only by Mrs. Durkin, who received 110 votes.

Mrs. Durkin, who has been a school board member for 10 years, received 113 votes. Both were elected to the School Committee.

Boylston School Committee President, John W. O'Brien, said he was pleased with the election results.

Dental hygiene course is offered by OCC

The Massachusetts Board of Dental Examiners has approved the offerings of a dental hygiene course by the Cape Cod Community College in Hyannis.

The course is designed for the students of the college who have been awarded degrees in dental hygiene.

The course will be taught by the Massachusetts Board of Dental Examiners and is designed to prepare basic skills in the field of dental hygiene.

Further information is available from Mr. Kenneth W. Miller, Division of Dental Hygiene, Cape Cod Community College, 50 West Street, Hyannis, Massachusetts.

Rep. Rucho supports Med School, Quincy

On August 9, 1975

In the House

Legislature

H. 100.1

An act to establish a center for medical education and research at the University of Massachusetts in the city of Quincy.

The center would be a regional center for medical education and research and would be supported by the state of Massachusetts.

The center would be located on the campus of the Massachusetts General Hospital.

The center would be governed by a board of trustees appointed by the governor, with the advice and consent of the Senate and House of Representatives.

The center would be responsible for the development of a curriculum for the graduate and professional schools of medicine and the development of research programs.

The center would be supported by the state, and the state would be required to provide funding for the center.

The center would be responsible for the establishment of a hospital affiliated with the center for clinical training and research.

The center would be responsible for the development of partnerships with other institutions of higher education and the establishment of collaborative agreements with other institutions.

The center would be responsible for the development of partnerships with other institutions of higher education and the establishment of collaborative agreements with other institutions.

The center would be responsible for the development of partnerships with other institutions of higher education and the establishment of collaborative agreements with other institutions.

The center would be responsible for the development of partnerships with other institutions of higher education and the establishment of collaborative agreements with other institutions.
Quinsig Women's Hoop Pilot Named N.E. Coach of Year

When Marilyn Brewer first learned women's basketball was at Quinsigamond Community College, she was skeptical. But Brewer, a former basketball standout at Wesleyan University, has since become a fixture on the team. She led the Owls to their first New England title in 1975 and was named the league's Coach of the Year.

Brewer, who previously coached basketball at Manhattan College, found the transition to coaching women's basketball challenging. "In college, you have more structure," she said. "Here, you have to be creative." But Brewer believes the effort paid off. "I've taught a lot of kids who are going to be successful," she said. "I've taught them to be leaders."

Brewer's success on the court has brought her recognition both on and off the court. She has been honored with numerous awards, including the Naismith Women's College Coach of the Year and the Women's Basketball Coaches Association Coach of the Year.

Brewer's approach to coaching has been praised by her players. "She's always there to push us," said senior guard Lisa Miller. "She's the best coach I've ever had."

Brewer credits her success to her players' hard work and dedication. "They're the ones who make the difference," she said. "They're the ones who put in the time and effort."

Brewer's impact on the Owls has been more than just on the court. She has served as head coach for the past five seasons, leading the team to a record of 122-60. Her success has not gone unnoticed. She was named the New England Women's Basketball League Coach of the Year in 1975, and her team won the league championship in 1976.

Brewer's impact on the Owls has been felt both on and off the court. She has built a strong bond with her players, and her influence has extended beyond the team. "She's a role model," said junior forward Kim Miller. "She's a leader."
Quinsig Graduates
77 New Nurses

The Worcester Telegram 5/9/75

They have almost completed placing the 77 graduates of the nurses school within a very short time from the time of the administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.

The final examinations were administered on Monday by the
administration of the final examinations.
Quabbin Community Group
Band Concerts
Begin in Barre

600 Awarded Degrees by Quinsigamond College

WORCESTER, June 1, 1979 - The Worcester Sunday Telegram reports that 600 degrees were awarded by Quinsigamond Community College in a commencement ceremony held yesterday.

Rutland school district office manager Paul C. Whipple is presented with a plaque by President Paul Pikes. The ceremony included the presentation of 297 associate degrees, 23 master's degrees, and 132 bachelor's degrees. The degrees were awarded in such fields as business administration, social work, education, nursing, and physical education.

The ceremony was held at the school's campus in Worcester. President Pikes said the school is facing a budget crisis due to a decline in enrollment.

In other news, the Quinsigamond Regional School District has announced plans to cut 19 positions to meet its $1 million deficit. The cuts will affect all departments, including administration, teaching, and support staff.

QCC Awards 600 Degrees

WORCESTER, June 1, 1979 - Quinsigamond Community College awarded 600 degrees at its 24th commencement yesterday.

President Paul Pikes and Dean William E. Price presented the degrees to a crowd of over 1,000 students and their families. The degrees were awarded in various fields, including education, business administration, social work, and health professions.

The ceremony was held at the school's campus in Worcester. President Pikes said the school is facing a budget crisis due to a decline in enrollment.

In other news, the Quinsigamond Regional School District has announced plans to cut 19 positions to meet its $1 million deficit. The cuts will affect all departments, including administration, teaching, and support staff.

Quinsig Tightens Belt In Face Of Budget Cuts

WORCESTER, June 1, 1979 - Quinsigamond Community College President Paul Pikes announced yesterday that the school will begin implementing budget cuts to address a $1 million deficit.

Pikes said the cuts will affect all departments, including administration, teaching, and support staff. The school will also reduce the number of programs offered and eliminate some courses.

In other news, the Quinsigamond Regional School District has announced plans to cut 19 positions to meet its $1 million deficit. The cuts will affect all departments, including administration, teaching, and support staff.

In Nursing School

WORCESTER, June 1, 1979 - Quinsigamond Community College President Paul Pikes announced yesterday that the school will begin implementing budget cuts to address a $1 million deficit.

Pikes said the cuts will affect all departments, including administration, teaching, and support staff. The school will also reduce the number of programs offered and eliminate some courses.

In other news, the Quinsigamond Regional School District has announced plans to cut 19 positions to meet its $1 million deficit. The cuts will affect all departments, including administration, teaching, and support staff.
Women in 80s Study Gerontology

From Page 10

Several younger people have expressed interest in the course. They are all interested in living longer and better lives.

Mrs. Dean and Mrs. Davis are attending the course. They find it interesting and informative. They are enjoying the discussions and the interaction with other participants.

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor are also attending the course. They find it challenging and stimulating. They are learning new things and broadening their perspectives.

Mrs. Robinson is attending the course. She finds it educational and thought-provoking. She is interested in the topics covered and finds the discussions stimulating.

There are many other people attending the course. They are all interested in living longer and better lives. They find the course informative and enjoyable.

Are There Too Many Nurses?

A new study published in the Journal of the American Geriatrics Society has found that there are too many nurses in the United States. The study found that the current nurse-to-patient ratio is too high, leading to increased costs and decreased quality of care.

The study found that the current ratio of one nurse for every four patients is too high. The researchers found that a nurse-to-patient ratio of one to five would be more efficient and cost-effective.

The study also found that nurses are overworked and understaffed. They are often required to work long hours without adequate support, leading to burnout and decreased job satisfaction.

The findings of the study have implications for policymakers and healthcare providers. They must consider the need for a more efficient nurse-to-patient ratio to improve the quality of care and reduce costs.

Quinsig Women Advance, Gain Top Seed in N.E. Test

The Quinsig Women's College soccer team is seeded as the number one team in the New England region. This is the first time in the school's history that they have achieved this seeding.

The Quinsig Women's College soccer team has been working hard throughout the season to prepare for this important match. They have received a lot of support and encouragement from the school and the community.

The team is excited and ready to compete at the highest level. They are determined to make history and bring home the championship title.

The match will be held at the school's new stadium, which has been recently renovated and upgraded. The stadium has a capacity of 5,000 spectators and is state-of-the-art.
Hospitals Look at Nurses' Job Situations

Certified from Pop One

In growing numbers of communities, local nurses are becoming more professionalized. Some hospitals are taking steps to improve the working conditions for nurses. The American Nurses' Association (ANA) has been pushing for better salaries, benefits, and working conditions for nurses.

Many hospitals are starting to implement changes that address some of the concerns raised by nurses. These changes include increasing staff ratios, providing more support for nurses, and ensuring better working conditions.

A recent survey conducted by the ANA found that nurses in many hospitals are feeling overworked and underappreciated. The survey also found that nurses in some hospitals are working double shifts and having to care for more patients than they are trained to handle.

One hospital that has made significant changes is the University of California, San Francisco. The hospital has implemented a program that allows nurses to work fewer hours and receive higher pay. This has helped to reduce nurse turnover and improve patient care.

Another hospital that has made changes is the Massachusetts General Hospital. The hospital has increased the number of nurses on each shift and provided more support for nurses. As a result, nurse turnover has decreased and patient satisfaction has improved.

Despite these gains, nurses continue to face many challenges. They often work long hours and have little time for personal or family life. They also face a high risk of burnout and stress.

The ANA is working to address these issues by advocating for better working conditions for nurses. They are also working to increase nurse pay and provide more training and support for nurses.

For more information on nurse job situations, visit the ANA website at www.nursingworld.org.

'Draft Kerry' Campaign Efforts

Candidate Is in Dutch With the State

By Frank S. Maguire

A Massachusetts Kerry supporter, who launched a campaign to draft Senator Scott R. Kerry, has run into unexpected difficulties. The campaign, which was designed to persuade Senator Kerry to run for President in 2004, has faced significant challenges.

Richard L. Clancy, the leader of the 'Draft Kerry' campaign, said that the campaign had run into some unexpected challenges. "We were expecting a smooth sailing, but we've had a few rough patches," he said.

When the campaign launched, it faced opposition from Senator Kerry's office. The office issued a statement saying that Senator Kerry was focused on his job and not on a potential run for President.

Despite this setback, the campaign continued to gain momentum. They raised money and organized events to support their cause. However, they faced another challenge when Senator Kerry changed his position on the war in Iraq.

The campaign leaders were disappointed by Senator Kerry's change in position. They had hoped that he would support a non-aggression policy.

The campaign continues to push for Senator Kerry's run for President. They believe that he has the experience and the vision to lead the country.

For more information on the 'Draft Kerry' campaign, visit their website at www.draftkerry2004.org.
Area Colleges Buck National Trend of Declining Enrollments

The Evening Gazette, July 10, 1975

By GREGORY M. BRAYNE

In the past year,

A few area colleges have successfully bucked the national trend toward declining enrollments, according to a recent study.

Lyceum

Temple University reported increased enrollment for the fall semester.

Temple officials attributed the increase to the university's efforts to attract non-traditional students, including part-time and night students.

Career Programs

Joseph L. Scanlon, director of the Career Development Center at Temple, said the increase in enrollment was due to the center's emphasis on career counseling and placement.

"We have increased our staff and our programming," Scanlon said. "We have more counselors available to help students with their career decisions."

"We have also increased our outreach efforts," he said. "We have been holding more workshops and seminars on career topics."
Delay Is Proposed In Opening Hospital

By BRIAN E. MURPHY

BOSTON - Educational officials from a state budget committee and the Massachusetts Higher Education Board have issued a warning about the potential delay in opening a new hospital.

The hospital was scheduled to open in July, but the state budget committee has recommended a delay of at least six months to address concerns about the hospital's financial viability.

The hospital is expected to cost $500 million, and the state has already allocated $300 million towards its construction. However, the budget committee has expressed concerns about the hospital's ability to generate revenue to cover its operating costs.

The delay would also impact the hospital's ability to attract key faculty members and staff, who have expressed concerns about the hospital's financial stability.

OCC Hopes to Avoid Student, Faculty Cut

Sen. Conte Lends Support

Budget Cuts Would Close Colleges

OCC Meets With State Officials

The Massachusetts Board of Finance and Administration has recommended a 5% reduction in OCC's budget, which would result in a significant reduction in state funding for the college.

Sen. Conte has expressed support for OCC and has been working to secure additional state funding to help offset the proposed cuts.

The College of the Holy Cross has also expressed concerns about the proposed cuts and has been working to secure additional funding from the state to help offset the cuts.

OCC will delay opening to Sept. 8

QCC Will Delay Opening to Sept. 8

By GREGORY R. Raymond

The Quinsigamond Community College (QCC) has announced a delay in its opening date to Sept. 8, 1979.

The delay is due to a shortage of faculty and staff, as well as concerns about the college's ability to meet its financial obligations.

The college's president, Dr. John A. Keating, said that the delay is necessary to ensure the college's financial stability and to allow time for the college to hire additional faculty and staff.

The delay will affect approximately 1,500 students who were expected to enroll in the fall semester.
Colleges' Fund Bid Denied
As Fund Bid Is Rejected

Quinsig C.C. Delays Opening to Sept. 8

House Action Vote Goes Against Degrees

Kelly Notes Quality Education

State College Layoffs Due

Talk of Reinstatement
Quinsig

Continued From Page One

The new 5 and 7 week course schedules this summer... A FEW OF THE 170 REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD COME TO QUINSIGAMOND THIS SUMMER

The Quinsigamond Community College offers a wide variety of courses to meet the needs of students in the area. The college is located in Worcester, Massachusetts, and offers programs in a variety of fields, including business, education, and health sciences. With over 170 courses available, there is something for everyone. Whether you're looking for a certificate or a degree, Quinsigamond has a program that will fit your needs.

OUR SUMMER CATALOG

SUMMER BEGINS JUNE 2

Register now for your summer course. Quinsigamond offers a variety of courses to choose from, including classes in art, music, and business. There are also opportunities for students to earn college credit while enjoying the warmth of summer.

SUMMER SESSIONS REGISTRATION AND COUNSELING

MAY 27-30
9 A.M. - 4 P.M. AND 6:30 P.M. - 8:30 P.M.

The college is open during the summer, with classes held throughout the day. There are also opportunities for students to participate in extracurricular activities, such as sports and clubs. With a focus on student success, Quinsigamond provides a supportive and enriching environment for all students.

The College for Adults

The Center for Continuing Education at Quinsigamond offers courses for adults who want to expand their knowledge and skills. With a variety of programs, including computer skills and business management, there is something for everyone. Whether you're looking to change careers or simply want to learn something new, Quinsigamond has a program that will fit your needs.

QUINSIGAMOND COMMUNITY COLLEGE

770 West Boylston St., Worcester, MA 01609
TOLL FREE 800-243-2106

CLASSIFICATIONS:

THE WEEK OF JUNE 2?
Students, Staff Face Reductions

By GREGORY R. BYRNE

Students To Protest Cuts

A rally of Queen's University students and staff, led by the Queen's Student Union, will be held at 2 p.m. today to protest proposed faculty and staff cuts at the university.

The rally, which will be held outside the university administration building, is expected to attract hundreds of students and staff members who are concerned about the proposed cuts.

The rally will feature speeches by members of the Queen's Student Union and other representatives of the university community.

The proposed cuts, which were announced last week, are part of the university's efforts to reduce its operating costs and improve its financial stability.

The cuts include reductions in faculty and staff positions, as well as cuts to programs and services offered by the university.

The Queen's Student Union has called for the university to reverse its decision to cut staff and programs, saying that it will harm the quality of education and research at the university.

The rally will also feature a march through the university campus, with participants holding signs and chanting slogans to express their opposition to the proposed cuts.

The rally is expected to end with a closing speech by a member of the Queen's Student Union, followed by a group photo of the rally participants.

The Queen's Student Union has also called on other universities to join the protest against proposed cuts, and has urged students and staff members to attend the rally and support the cause.

The university has said that it will continue to consider its options for reducing costs, and that it will keep the community informed of any future developments.

For more information, visit the Queen's Student Union website at www.qsu.org.
Quinsigamond Lays Off 13 To Cut Athletics, Shut Gym

By GREGORY R. BYBONE
The Sunday Telegram
August 26, 1975

Quinsigamond Community College President John M. O'Brien said the college was laying off 13 employees in an effort to cut athletics and shut the gym. O'Brien said the cuts, which were the result of a budget reduction, would not affect the quality of education. He said the layoffs were necessary to reduce the college's expenses and maintain its financial stability.

ANNOUNCEMENT TO DAYTIME STUDENTS

Recent decisions by the Massachusetts Legislature affecting higher education have made it necessary for Quinsigamond to delay Fall Semester registration and the beginning of classes by one week. All Daytime Students should note the following changes:

Registration for Daytime Students — September 4-5
Beginning of classes for Daytime Students — September 8

Information about registration will be mailed to students shortly. Please do not call The College.

Evening Students will register, as previously announced, September 2-5, 2-30 to 4-30 p.m. and 6:30-8:30 p.m.) and Saturday, September 6 (9 a.m.-1 p.m.). Evening and late Afternoon classes will begin the week of September 8 as scheduled.

Quinsigamond

Quinsigamond Community College
WORCESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

The Sunday Telegram
August 26, 1975

ANNOUNCEMENT TO DAYTIME STUDENTS

Recent decisions by the Massachusetts Legislature affecting higher education have made it necessary for Quinsigamond to delay Fall Semester registration and the beginning of classes by one week. All Daytime Students should note the following changes:

Registration for Daytime Students — September 4-5
Beginning of classes for Daytime Students — September 8

Information about registration will be mailed to students shortly. Please do not call The College.

Evening Students will register, as previously announced, September 2-5, 2-30 to 4-30 p.m. and 6:30-8:30 p.m.) and Saturday, September 6 (9 a.m.-1 p.m.). Evening and late Afternoon classes will begin the week of September 8 as scheduled.

Quinsigamond

Quinsigamond Community College
WORCESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

The Sunday Telegram
August 26, 1975

ANNOUNCEMENT TO DAYTIME STUDENTS

Recent decisions by the Massachusetts Legislature affecting higher education have made it necessary for Quinsigamond to delay Fall Semester registration and the beginning of classes by one week. All Daytime Students should note the following changes:

Registration for Daytime Students — September 4-5
Beginning of classes for Daytime Students — September 8

Information about registration will be mailed to students shortly. Please do not call The College.

Evening Students will register, as previously announced, September 2-5, 2-30 to 4-30 p.m. and 6:30-8:30 p.m.) and Saturday, September 6 (9 a.m.-1 p.m.). Evening and late Afternoon classes will begin the week of September 8 as scheduled.

Quinsigamond

Quinsigamond Community College
WORCESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

The Sunday Telegram
August 26, 1975

ANNOUNCEMENT TO DAYTIME STUDENTS

Recent decisions by the Massachusetts Legislature affecting higher education have made it necessary for Quinsigamond to delay Fall Semester registration and the beginning of classes by one week. All Daytime Students should note the following changes:

Registration for Daytime Students — September 4-5
Beginning of classes for Daytime Students — September 8

Information about registration will be mailed to students shortly. Please do not call The College.

Evening Students will register, as previously announced, September 2-5, 2-30 to 4-30 p.m. and 6:30-8:30 p.m.) and Saturday, September 6 (9 a.m.-1 p.m.). Evening and late Afternoon classes will begin the week of September 8 as scheduled.

Quinsigamond

Quinsigamond Community College
WORCESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

The Sunday Telegram
August 26, 1975

ANNOUNCEMENT TO DAYTIME STUDENTS

Recent decisions by the Massachusetts Legislature affecting higher education have made it necessary for Quinsigamond to delay Fall Semester registration and the beginning of classes by one week. All Daytime Students should note the following changes:

Registration for Daytime Students — September 4-5
Beginning of classes for Daytime Students — September 8

Information about registration will be mailed to students shortly. Please do not call The College.

Evening Students will register, as previously announced, September 2-5, 2-30 to 4-30 p.m. and 6:30-8:30 p.m.) and Saturday, September 6 (9 a.m.-1 p.m.). Evening and late Afternoon classes will begin the week of September 8 as scheduled.

Quinsigamond

Quinsigamond Community College
WORCESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

The Sunday Telegram
August 26, 1975

ANNOUNCEMENT TO DAYTIME STUDENTS

Recent decisions by the Massachusetts Legislature affecting higher education have made it necessary for Quinsigamond to delay Fall Semester registration and the beginning of classes by one week. All Daytime Students should note the following changes:

Registration for Daytime Students — September 4-5
Beginning of classes for Daytime Students — September 8

Information about registration will be mailed to students shortly. Please do not call The College.

Evening Students will register, as previously announced, September 2-5, 2-30 to 4-30 p.m. and 6:30-8:30 p.m.) and Saturday, September 6 (9 a.m.-1 p.m.). Evening and late Afternoon classes will begin the week of September 8 as scheduled.

Quinsigamond

Quinsigamond Community College
WORCESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

The Sunday Telegram
August 26, 1975

ANNOUNCEMENT TO DAYTIME STUDENTS

Recent decisions by the Massachusetts Legislature affecting higher education have made it necessary for Quinsigamond to delay Fall Semester registration and the beginning of classes by one week. All Daytime Students should note the following changes:

Registration for Daytime Students — September 4-5
Beginning of classes for Daytime Students — September 8

Information about registration will be mailed to students shortly. Please do not call The College.

Evening Students will register, as previously announced, September 2-5, 2-30 to 4-30 p.m. and 6:30-8:30 p.m.) and Saturday, September 6 (9 a.m.-1 p.m.). Evening and late Afternoon classes will begin the week of September 8 as scheduled.

Quinsigamond

Quinsigamond Community College
WORCESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

The Sunday Telegram
August 26, 1975

ANNOUNCEMENT TO DAYTIME STUDENTS

Recent decisions by the Massachusetts Legislature affecting higher education have made it necessary for Quinsigamond to delay Fall Semester registration and the beginning of classes by one week. All Daytime Students should note the following changes:

Registration for Daytime Students — September 4-5
Beginning of classes for Daytime Students — September 8

Information about registration will be mailed to students shortly. Please do not call The College.

Evening Students will register, as previously announced, September 2-5, 2-30 to 4-30 p.m. and 6:30-8:30 p.m.) and Saturday, September 6 (9 a.m.-1 p.m.). Evening and late Afternoon classes will begin the week of September 8 as scheduled.

Quinsigamond

Quinsigamond Community College
WORCESTER, MASSACHUSETTS

The Sunday Telegram
August 26, 1975

ANNOUNCEMENT TO DAYTIME STUDENTS

Recent decisions by the Massachusetts Legislature affecting higher education have made it necessary for Quinsigamond to delay Fall Semester registration and the beginning of classes by one week. All Daytime Students should note the following changes:

Registration for Daytime Students — September 4-5
Beginning of classes for Daytime Students — September 8

Information about registration will be mailed to students shortly. Please do not call The College.

Evening Students will register, as previously announced, September 2-5, 2-30 to 4-30 p.m. and 6:30-8:30 p.m.) and Saturday, September 6 (9 a.m.-1 p.m.). Evening and late Afternoon classes will begin the week of September 8 as scheduled.

Quinsigamond
Commencement Speakers Circuit

It's 'Women's Year' and Grads Get an Earful

While they're not the official speakers on the commencement program, they are certainly being heard. At the 10th annual Women's Year at the University of Maryland Women's Speakers Circuit, June 3rd, Mary Prentice, the speaker chosen by a variety of schools at the University of Maryland, spoke on the topic of "Women's Year and Grads Get an Earful." The gathering was attended by a variety of faculty and students at the university, including Prentice's students, who were featured in the program.

Economic Advisor

Theodore J. Von Ahn, a businessman and former economics professor, delivered the address at Maryland Women's College. He discussed the importance of women in economic development and how they can contribute to the growth of the economy.

Several schools serve the elderly

Clark University's program for senior citizens is part of a joint effort to provide educational opportunities to those who are interested. The program, which currently has 500 participants, plans to offer courses to seniors on a variety of topics. The program is designed to provide a community for those who are interested in learning new skills and meeting new people.

Mother's Little Helper

The Evening Times, Sept. 7, 1975

Mother's Little Helper

The Evening Times, Sept. 7, 1975

Mother's Little Helper

The Evening Times, Sept. 7, 1975

Mother's Little Helper

The Evening Times, Sept. 7, 1975

Mother's Little Helper

The Evening Times, Sept. 7, 1975
ANNOUNCEMENT TO DAYTIME STUDENTS

Recent decisions by the Massachusetts Legislature affecting higher education have made it necessary for Quinsigamond to delay Fall Semester registration and the beginning of classes by one week. All Daytime Students should note the following changes:

Registration for Daytime Students — September 4-5
Beginning of classes for Daytime Students — September 8

Information about registration will be mailed to students shortly. Please do not call the College.

Evening Students will register, as previously announced, September 2-5 (9 a.m.-4 p.m. and 6:30-8:30 p.m.) and Saturday, September 6 (9 a.m.-1 p.m.). Evening and Late Afternoon classes will begin the week of September 8 as scheduled.
Boston-New England
Changing nature of colleges
in the 1970s
Older students come to school
to learn practical careers

By Chris Kozick
Assistant Editor of The Christian Science Monitor

A yes in the 1970s is a yes for education. College is the ticket to a better job outlook. But times are changing. Today's college is more than just a stepping stone to a better job outlook. It is a place where students can learn practical skills that will help them succeed in their chosen careers.

Leading role in education

While some Harvard College opened its doors in 1971 and Tufts University established its first graduate level program in 1974, Massachusetts, with its geographically small population, has been experimenting with the concept of higher education for over 100 years. Though the state has a number of major institutions, including Harvard, MIT, and Tufts, it is the small, liberal arts colleges that have been at the forefront of educational reform.

Graduate Studies Offered on Tape

The Graduate School of Administration at the University of Pennsylvania is offering courses in computer programming and business administration on audiotape. The courses are the first of a series of programs to be offered on tape by the school, which plans to offer a total of 12 courses in the next five years.

Quinsigamond to open late

The Quinsigamond Community College in Worcester, Mass., has been delayed in its opening due to a strike by its faculty members. The college, which was scheduled to open in September, has been delayed until early next year.

Boston-New England
Changing nature of colleges
in the 1970s
Older students come to school
to learn practical careers

By Chris Kozick
Assistant Editor of The Christian Science Monitor

A yes in the 1970s is a yes for education. College is the ticket to a better job outlook. But times are changing. Today's college is more than just a stepping stone to a better job outlook. It is a place where students can learn practical skills that will help them succeed in their chosen careers.

Leading role in education

While some Harvard College opened its doors in 1971 and Tufts University established its first graduate level program in 1974, Massachusetts, with its geographically small population, has been experimenting with the concept of higher education for over 100 years. Though the state has a number of major institutions, including Harvard, MIT, and Tufts, it is the small, liberal arts colleges that have been at the forefront of educational reform.

Graduate Studies Offered on Tape

The Graduate School of Administration at the University of Pennsylvania is offering courses in computer programming and business administration on audiotape. The courses are the first of a series of programs to be offered on tape by the school, which plans to offer a total of 12 courses in the next five years.

Quinsigamond to open late

The Quinsigamond Community College in Worcester, Mass., has been delayed in its opening due to a strike by its faculty members. The college, which was scheduled to open in September, has been delayed until early next year.
Senate Advances Hike in Wages Allowed Jobless

At The State House

Barley asks funds

Bartley proposes out of state tuition for Berklee

Cuts in Education

New England Journal of Medicine

Officials Predict Dropouts If College Tuitions Increase

By Gregory R. Lymes

Dartmouth College

QCC in Southbridge

To Open on Schedule

Chamber of Commerce Plans Two Seminars

New England Journal of Medicine

Political Matter

The Chamber of Commerce plans to open in Southbridge.

The Chamber of Commerce plans to open in Southbridge.

The Chamber of Commerce plans to open in Southbridge.

The Chamber of Commerce plans to open in Southbridge.

The Chamber of Commerce plans to open in Southbridge.

The Chamber of Commerce plans to open in Southbridge.
20 percent budget cut would require closing 4 colleges, Park tells committee

By Tom Parks

Economy may force cuts in enrollment, faculty

Enrollment cut studied

At Quinsig

PARKS: "Just say no"

Tom Parks yesterday told the House Ways and Means Committee that the college has to cut enrollment because of the economy.

"Economy will force cuts in enrollment, faculty," said Parks.

"We have to reduce the number of students," he said. "We have to reduce the number of faculty."
QUINSIGAMOND NEW 5 WEEK SECOND DAY SESSION

CLASSES BEGIN MONDAY, JULY 7 AND END FRIDAY, AUGUST 8

NEW COURSES AND OTHERS OF SPECIAL COMMUNITY INTEREST

- English Communication Skills
- History and English Literature
- Chemistry I
- History of American Agriculture
- Modern World
- Child Psychology & Development
- Speech Communication Skills
- Psychology for Teachers: Young Children
- Sociology
- Government

PERIOD I

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>COURSE #</th>
<th>COURSE</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>S2 30</td>
<td>Life Science I</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 31</td>
<td>Chemistry I</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 32</td>
<td>Physical Science I</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 33</td>
<td>Social Science I</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 34</td>
<td>American History I</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 35</td>
<td>Government I</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 36</td>
<td>Economics I</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 37</td>
<td>Psychology I</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 38</td>
<td>Art History I</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 39</td>
<td>Music History I</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

PERIOD II

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>COURSE #</th>
<th>COURSE</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>S2 40</td>
<td>Life Science II</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 41</td>
<td>Chemistry II</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 42</td>
<td>Physical Science II</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 43</td>
<td>Social Science II</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 44</td>
<td>American History II</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 45</td>
<td>Government II</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 46</td>
<td>Economics II</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 47</td>
<td>Psychology II</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 48</td>
<td>Art History II</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 49</td>
<td>Music History II</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

PERIOD III

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>COURSE #</th>
<th>COURSE</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>S2 50</td>
<td>Life Science III</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 51</td>
<td>Chemistry III</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 52</td>
<td>Physical Science III</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 53</td>
<td>Social Science III</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 54</td>
<td>American History III</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 55</td>
<td>Government III</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 56</td>
<td>Economics III</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 57</td>
<td>Psychology III</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 58</td>
<td>Art History III</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S2 59</td>
<td>Music History III</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

In Our Opinion

The Evening Gazette

September 30, 1975

On Paying More for Less

Quinsigamond Community College dropped faculty members and reduced courses, a move intended to comply with state mandates to reduce costs. The college, facing a 20% cutback, offered a variety of classes but promised to continue to offer its core courses.

Student Perspective

A student at the college expressed concern about the cuts, saying, "The cuts are really hurting us. We need these courses to complete our degrees." The college's president defended the cuts, saying they were necessary to comply with state mandates.

---

SUMMER SESSIONS

The Center for Continuing Education and Community Services

QUINSIGAMOND COMMUNITY COLLEGE

Summer Hall, 670 West Boylston St., Worcester, MA 01606

Tel: 522-2400
NEW COURSES AND OTHERS OF SPECIAL INTEREST THIS FALL

- Advanced German
- Photography Workshop
- Problems of Alchemy-Lld
- Engineering Drawing for Electronics
- Transactional Analysis
- Basic Conversational Italian
- American Revolution in Sound by Meaning
- The Movies: Film Hist. & Criticism
- Juvenile Delinquency
- Computer Applications in Business
- Basic Conversational Spanish I & II
- Women's Rights Movement with Special Needs
- Advertising
- Intro to Musical Records
- Music of the 20th Century

EVENING AND LATE AFTERNOON COURSES

ACCOUNTING
- 111 Intro. Accounting I — Mon., Wed., Fri. (6:30 p.m.)
- 112 Intro. Accounting II — Mon., Wed., Fri. (6:30 p.m.)
- 113 Principles of Accounts — Tue., Thu.
- 220 Advanced Accounting — Mon., Wed., Fri. (6:30 p.m.)

ANTHROPOLOGY
- 111 Intro. to Physical Anth. & Archaeology — Wed.

ART
- 111 History of Art I — Mon., Wed., Fri.
- 221 Drawing I — Mon., Wed., Fri.

BIOLoGy
- 111 General Biology I — Mon., Wed., Fri.
- 113 General Biology II — Mon., Wed., Fri.
- 114 Anatomy & Physiology I — Mon., Wed., Fri.
- 223 Nutrition — Wed.

BUSINESS LAW
- 111 Business Law I — Wed.
- 112 Business Law II — Wed.

CHEMISTRY
- 111 Intro. to Chemistry I
- 121 Chemistry I

PHILOSOPHY
- 211 Epic of the Modern World
- 221 Critical thinking
- 231 Logic

PSYCHOLOGY
- 111 Intro to Psychology — Mon., Wed., Fri. (6:45 p.m.)
- 112 Human Development — Mon., Wed., Fri. (6:45 p.m.)
- 121 Child Psychology — Mon., Wed., Fri. (6:45 p.m.)
- 122 Adult Psychology — Mon., Wed., Fri. (6:45 p.m.)

ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES
- 111 Intro. to Environmental Studies — Mon., Wed., Fri. (6:45 p.m.)
- 121 Ecology — Mon., Wed., Fri. (6:45 p.m.)

HISTORY
- 111 History of the United States
- 112 History of the World

PHYSICS
- 111 Intro to Physics — Mon., Wed., Fri.
- 121 Electricity and Magnetism — Mon., Wed., Fri.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION
- 111 Aerobic Dance — Mon., Wed., Fri.
- 121 Aerobic Dance — Mon., Wed., Fri.

polItICAL SCIENCE

SOCIAL WORK

SPORTS
- 111 Physical Education I — Mon., Wed., Fri.
- 121 Physical Education II — Mon., Wed., Fri.

FOOTBALL
- 111 Football — Mon., Wed., Fri.
- 121 Football — Mon., Wed., Fri.

In Our Opinion...

A Different Look at Downtown

For a new look at downtown Worcester and its possibilities, we recommend a trip to the Worcester Cultural Center, 550 Main St. This bustling center provides a wide range of services, including cultural activities, events, and exhibitions. You'll find a new level of excitement and enjoyment in the heart of downtown Worcester.

A study of the cultural and recreational activities in downtown Worcester revealed that it is a vibrant cultural hub. The center, located at 550 Main St, is a popular destination for locals and visitors alike. This area offers a variety of cultural activities, including art exhibitions, concerts, and lectures, making it an ideal place to explore the city's rich cultural heritage.

The center is not only a cultural hub but also a hub for entertainment. With a variety of events and activities, there is always something to see and do. Whether you're interested in art, music, or literature, the center has something to offer.

In conclusion, downtown Worcester is a must-visit destination for anyone interested in cultural activities. Whether you're a local or a visitor, you'll find a new level of excitement and enjoyment in the heart of downtown Worcester.
Quinsig, Leicester Advance
In Junior College Tourney

Quinsig Sweeps
Monticello

Nassau Tips
Quinsig, 3-2,
In Playoff

Quinsig Uses Big Rallies
To Take Baseball Crown

Quinsig Defends Regional Title

Quinsig Basket/31
Very Good

Quinsig Nine Eliminated

Quinsig Quintet
Parades, 81-58
Mr. Outgoing and Mr. Shy Have Made Quinsig 9 Go

BY JIM CONNOLLY
Of the Telegram Staff

Harry Clark and Mike Cogliano have been two of the most consistent players on the high school's baseball team. Clark has been a centerfielder and catcher, while Cogliano has been a pitcher and outfielder.

Clark, who is 6'3" and weighs 190 pounds, has been a consistent hitter throughout his career. He has a .350 batting average and has led the team in home runs three times.

Cogliano, who is 5'10" and weighs 170 pounds, has been a dominant pitcher on the team. He has a 2.50 ERA and has struck out 150 batters in his career.

Cool on Way to Victory

The weather was perfect for a baseball game, with the sun shining and the temperature just right.

The Phillies and the Cardinals were playing for the National League title, and the entire city was on the edge of its seat.

The Cardinals were leading by two runs with two outs in the ninth inning, but the Phillies were not about to give up.

They rallied for two runs in the bottom of the ninth inning, with a two-run home run by Jim Rice and a single by Mike Cogliano, setting off a wild celebration in the stands.

Quinsig Team Locked Out of Its Cage

The Quinsigamond Community College baseball team was locked out of their locker room after a disagreement with the school administration.

The team, led by coach Mike Cogliano, was preparing for a game against a rival school when they were locked out of their locker room.

The team was forced to use a spare set of keys, but they were unable to access their equipment.

They ended up playing the game without their bats, gloves, and. equipment, but they were able to win the game.
City to Get $5.9 Million

Many Agencies Seek to Share Federal Funds

Agencies Seek Slice of $5.9 Million Pie

Quinsig Wins

Area Students Stage Rallies

Record Sum Distributed

From Fines Paid in Court

FEB 9 1975

PROCTOR TURNOVER

The Daily-Globe

FEB 9 1975

PROCTOR TURNOVER

The Daily-Globe

FEB 9 1975

PROCTOR TURNOVER

The Daily-Globe

FEB 9 1975

PROCTOR TURNOVER

The Daily-Globe

FEB 9 1975

PROCTOR TURNOVER

The Daily-Globe

FEB 9 1975

PROCTOR TURNOVER

The Daily-Globe

FEB 9 1975

PROCTOR TURNOVER

The Daily-Globe

FEB 9 1975

PROCTOR TURNOVER

The Daily-Globe

FEB 9 1975

PROCTOR TURNOVER

The Daily-Globe

FEB 9 1975

PROCTOR TURNOVER

The Daily-Globe

FEB 9 1975

PROCTOR TURNOVER

The Daily-Globe
5% Sales Tax, Budget Cuts Nearer

By WINCE E. MC MILLAN

The Texas Senate's final budget proposal includes $470 million in tax cuts, $200 million of which will come from the general fund, and $100 million from the sales tax. The Senate also approved a $100 million budget cut for the current fiscal year, with $50 million coming from the general fund and $50 million from the sales tax. The Senate budget includes $100 million for education, $50 million for transportation, and $50 million for health and human services. The Senate also approved a $50 million cut for the upcoming fiscal year, with $25 million coming from the general fund and $25 million from the sales tax.
UMass Hospital Finances Are Set

Divide and Conquer

State School Board and its supporters against the medical school and its supporters. We hope the scheme is seen for what it is - a red herring.

Yanks are trying to get Quinsigum Community College into the game by proposing $35 million in state funding for a school to be built in the town. But it is not a medical school and its supporter's scheme is seen for what it is - a red herring.

State School Board is trying to get Quinsigum Community College into the game by proposing $35 million in state funding for a school to be built in the town. But it is not a medical school and its supporter's scheme is seen for what it is - a red herring.

City Students to Join Protest

Offenberg Takes Reins at QCC

New QCC Head Vows No Secrets
Community colleges have uncertain future

By RAY DONALDSON

Acutely aware of the state's community colleges and their uncertain future, Governor Michael Dukakis has been criticized for his handling of the situation. Despite pressure from students, faculty, and state representatives, the governor has taken no action to address the crisis. At least 200 students at Worcester's Community College and 300 at Berkshire Community College have faced major cuts, including the elimination of courses, reduced hours, and layoff notices. In addition, the governor has removed three key representatives from the college's board of trustees, leading to concerns about the future of the community college system.

Cuts May Close WSC for 8 Weeks

By MARK SILVERMAN

While the community college is facing significant budget cuts, the situation at Worcester State College (WSC) is particularly dire. The college has already made cuts to courses and programs, and the cuts may extend to the full extent of the academic year. The college's administration has announced plans to cut 20% of the budget, including reductions in faculty and staff positions. The cuts will affect not only the students but also the community as a whole.

WICN Debate On Abortion

On WICN Monday, Worcester State College will host a debate between two representatives from different political viewpoints on the issue of abortion. The debate will be held at 7 PM in the Student Union. The topic of the debate is "Should the federal government decide the issue of abortion?" Two experts will present their arguments, and the audience will have the opportunity to ask questions.

Cuts Could Mean Loss of WSC's Accreditation

Worceser State College, which has been accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC) since 1956, is facing a possible loss of accreditation. The college has received a warning from NEASC, and if the cuts continue, the college could be placed on probation or lose its accreditation. This would be a devastating blow to the college and the community it serves.

Budget cuts cause student, faculty layoffs

By RAY DONALDSON

With state funding at an all-time low, community colleges across the state are facing severe cuts. At least 300 students at Worcester's Community College and 200 at Berkshire Community College have faced major cuts, including the elimination of courses, reduced hours, and layoff notices. Despite pressure from students, faculty, and state representatives, the governor has taken no action to address the crisis. At least 200 students at Worcester's Community College and 300 at Berkshire Community College have faced major cuts, including the elimination of courses, reduced hours, and layoff notices. In addition, the governor has removed three key representatives from the college's board of trustees, leading to concerns about the future of the community college system.

Cuts May Close WSC for 8 Weeks

By MARK SILVERMAN

While the community college is facing significant budget cuts, the situation at Worcester State College (WSC) is particularly dire. The college has already made cuts to courses and programs, and the cuts may extend to the full extent of the academic year. The college's administration has announced plans to cut 20% of the budget, including reductions in faculty and staff positions. The cuts will affect not only the students but also the community as a whole.

WICN Debate On Abortion

On WICN Monday, Worcester State College will host a debate between two representatives from different political viewpoints on the issue of abortion. The debate will be held at 7 PM in the Student Union. The topic of the debate is "Should the federal government decide the issue of abortion?" Two experts will present their arguments, and the audience will have the opportunity to ask questions.

Cuts Could Mean Loss of WSC's Accreditation

Worceser State College, which has been accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC) since 1956, is facing a possible loss of accreditation. The college has received a warning from NEASC, and if the cuts continue, the college could be placed on probation or lose its accreditation. This would be a devastating blow to the college and the community it serves.

Budget cuts cause student, faculty layoffs

By RAY DONALDSON

With state funding at an all-time low, community colleges across the state are facing severe cuts. At least 300 students at Worcester's Community College and 200 at Berkshire Community College have faced major cuts, including the elimination of courses, reduced hours, and layoff notices. Despite pressure from students, faculty, and state representatives, the governor has taken no action to address the crisis. At least 200 students at Worcester's Community College and 300 at Berkshire Community College have faced major cuts, including the elimination of courses, reduced hours, and layoff notices. In addition, the governor has removed three key representatives from the college's board of trustees, leading to concerns about the future of the community college system.

Cuts May Close WSC for 8 Weeks

By MARK SILVERMAN

While the community college is facing significant budget cuts, the situation at Worcester State College (WSC) is particularly dire. The college has already made cuts to courses and programs, and the cuts may extend to the full extent of the academic year. The college's administration has announced plans to cut 20% of the budget, including reductions in faculty and staff positions. The cuts will affect not only the students but also the community as a whole.

WICN Debate On Abortion

On WICN Monday, Worcester State College will host a debate between two representatives from different political viewpoints on the issue of abortion. The debate will be held at 7 PM in the Student Union. The topic of the debate is "Should the federal government decide the issue of abortion?" Two experts will present their arguments, and the audience will have the opportunity to ask questions.

Cuts Could Mean Loss of WSC's Accreditation

Worceser State College, which has been accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC) since 1956, is facing a possible loss of accreditation. The college has received a warning from NEASC, and if the cuts continue, the college could be placed on probation or lose its accreditation. This would be a devastating blow to the college and the community it serves.

Budget cuts cause student, faculty layoffs

By RAY DONALDSON

With state funding at an all-time low, community colleges across the state are facing severe cuts. At least 300 students at Worcester's Community College and 200 at Berkshire Community College have faced major cuts, including the elimination of courses, reduced hours, and layoff notices. Despite pressure from students, faculty, and state representatives, the governor has taken no action to address the crisis. At least 200 students at Worcester's Community College and 300 at Berkshire Community College have faced major cuts, including the elimination of courses, reduced hours, and layoff notices. In addition, the governor has removed three key representatives from the college's board of trustees, leading to concerns about the future of the community college system.

Cuts May Close WSC for 8 Weeks

By MARK SILVERMAN

While the community college is facing significant budget cuts, the situation at Worcester State College (WSC) is particularly dire. The college has already made cuts to courses and programs, and the cuts may extend to the full extent of the academic year. The college's administration has announced plans to cut 20% of the budget, including reductions in faculty and staff positions. The cuts will affect not only the students but also the community as a whole.

WICN Debate On Abortion

On WICN Monday, Worcester State College will host a debate between two representatives from different political viewpoints on the issue of abortion. The debate will be held at 7 PM in the Student Union. The topic of the debate is "Should the federal government decide the issue of abortion?" Two experts will present their arguments, and the audience will have the opportunity to ask questions.

Cuts Could Mean Loss of WSC's Accreditation

Worceser State College, which has been accredited by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges (NEASC) since 1956, is facing a possible loss of accreditation. The college has received a warning from NEASC, and if the cuts continue, the college could be placed on probation or lose its accreditation. This would be a devastating blow to the college and the community it serves.
Quinsigamond’s ‘Second Shift’ to Be Relevant

By GREGORY R. EYRES

Today’s high school curriculum will be restructured to accommodate the needs of a changing world. The following schedule was developed in consultation with teachers, administrators, and students.

The schedule, which is divided into four segments, will be implemented in the fall of 1975.

1. The morning segment will run from 8:00 a.m. to 10:00 a.m., with a break for breakfast. The curriculum will focus on traditional subjects such as English, math, and science.

2. The afternoon segment will run from 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m., with a break for lunch. The curriculum will focus on vocational and technical training, with a strong emphasis on computer science.

3. The evening segment will run from 4:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m., with no break. The curriculum will focus on adult education and community classes, with an emphasis on health and wellness.

4. The night segment will run from 7:00 p.m. to 9:00 p.m., with no break. The curriculum will focus on music, art, and recreation.

“We’re grown because the needs of the community have grown.”

Dean Samuel L. Albert

The Evening Gazette, October 3, 1975

Rising from its roots in the 17th century, the nation, according to Albert, has been driven by a need to understand and control the forces of nature. The 18th century saw the rise of the Enlightenment, with its emphasis on science and reason. The 19th century was marked by the industrial revolution, with its focus on technology and progress.

Today’s high school curriculum will be designed to prepare students for a world that is more complex and challenging than ever before. The curriculum will focus on critical thinking, problem-solving, and collaboration, with an emphasis on technology and innovation.

“We are considering the role of the high school in a world that is more complex and challenging than ever before.”

Dean Samuel L. Albert
QCC Night School Packs in Students

By GREGORY R. BYRNE

QCC Night School packs in students, since the school authorities have declared that the school is a place of business.

Loretta Tabor

Loretta Tabor, the director of the Night School program, is happy to report that the school has received a large number of students.

The Night School offers classes from 6:00 PM to 9:00 PM on weekdays.

Security Problems at Quinnsigmond CC

To the Editor:

On Thursday evening, a female student was attacked on campus near the student union. The victim, who is a member of the Quinnsigmond Community College basketball team, was walking to her car when she was approached by a man who asked her for her ID. When she refused, he began to physically attack her.

The man fled the scene after he saw a police officer nearby.

The police officer, who arrived on the scene within minutes, took statement from the victim and searched the area for surveillance footage.

The Quinnsigmond Community College administration is taking steps to improve security on campus.

Robert J. Smith

Dean of Student Affairs

Quinnsigmond Community College
Dukakis projects don't force legislative body barrel

The Boston Globe 9/21/77

An education discourse on money, goals of college

City's Colleges: Colleges

Children's Theater Presentation

Want to Stay Tax Exempt
$3,350 Raised to Aid Cycle Crash Victim

The Evening Gazette October 21, 1973

By FRED KARON

About $3,350 has been raised as a fund drive for Charles W. Worgan, who was paralized in an accident in Mexico. The money raised has been turned over to the parents of Charles Worgan, who is currently hospitalized in Mexico.

About $1,700 was raised for Worgan over a period of 27 days. A $2,000 check was given to a friend, and the parents of Worgan were given $1,700. The $1,700 was turned over to the parents.

The drive was sponsored by the Mexican government, and the funds were raised by the government.

The money was turned over to the parents, who are currently in Mexico.

Who Pays for College?

According to William D. O'Nion, president of the state Board of Community Colleges, the community colleges of Massachusetts are being charged with the cost of college education.

The total budget for the BCC community colleges is $145,376,000, which supports an enrollment of 27,800 students. The budget includes $145,376,000 for the state's community colleges.

However, if the state continues to increase the budget, it will result in a decrease in the cost of college education. As a result, the state may have to consider reducing the budget for the community colleges.

The president of the Board of Community Colleges has estimated that the budget for the community colleges will be reduced by $145,376,000 if the state continues to increase the budget.

The budget for the community colleges will be reduced by $145,376,000 if the state continues to increase the budget.

The budget for the community colleges will be reduced by $145,376,000 if the state continues to increase the budget.

The budget for the community colleges will be reduced by $145,376,000 if the state continues to increase the budget.

The budget for the community colleges will be reduced by $145,376,000 if the state continues to increase the budget.

The budget for the community colleges will be reduced by $145,376,000 if the state continues to increase the budget.

The budget for the community colleges will be reduced by $145,376,000 if the state continues to increase the budget.

The budget for the community colleges will be reduced by $145,376,000 if the state continues to increase the budget.
Many Charges Fly At Abortion Debate

BY JON A. TOWNE

The leaders of opposing sides in the abortion debate were pitted against each other in a heated exchange of charges during a recent meeting of the Worcester County Medical Society, which fosters discussion on medical topics.

The debate, scheduled for Monday night, Sept. 1, was attended by a sizable crowd, with many people expressing their views on the issue of abortion.

John M. Jefferson, national president of the Anti-Abortion Committee, stated that the group is fighting to protect the unborn child from the moment of conception.

William E. Balch, abortion and birth control advocate, argued that abortion is a necessary medical procedure and should be legal.

The debate continued with heated exchanges, with both sides presenting their arguments and counterarguments.

Charges Hurl at Debate

Continued From Page 1

The debate continued with heated exchanges, with both sides presenting their arguments and counterarguments.

John M. Jefferson, national president of the Anti-Abortion Committee, stated that the group is fighting to protect the unborn child from the moment of conception.

William E. Balch, abortion and birth control advocate, argued that abortion is a necessary medical procedure and should be legal.

The debate continued with heated exchanges, with both sides presenting their arguments and counterarguments.

John M. Jefferson, national president of the Anti-Abortion Committee, stated that the group is fighting to protect the unborn child from the moment of conception.

William E. Balch, abortion and birth control advocate, argued that abortion is a necessary medical procedure and should be legal.

The debate continued with heated exchanges, with both sides presenting their arguments and counterarguments.

John M. Jefferson, national president of the Anti-Abortion Committee, stated that the group is fighting to protect the unborn child from the moment of conception.

William E. Balch, abortion and birth control advocate, argued that abortion is a necessary medical procedure and should be legal.

The debate continued with heated exchanges, with both sides presenting their arguments and counterarguments.

John M. Jefferson, national president of the Anti-Abortion Committee, stated that the group is fighting to protect the unborn child from the moment of conception.

William E. Balch, abortion and birth control advocate, argued that abortion is a necessary medical procedure and should be legal.

The debate continued with heated exchanges, with both sides presenting their arguments and counterarguments.
Maharishi and School Dept. at Odds

By JOHN N. GEBRAN

The Stanley Daily Mirror, Thursday, April 5, 1973

The Maharishi education system, which claims to be a revolutionary new approach to education, is facing opposition from traditional educators and parents. The Maharishi system, which is based on a philosophy that emphasizes the development of the individual student's potential, is being criticized for its lack of emphasis on traditional academic subjects. The Maharishi system advocates a holistic approach to education, which includes meditation, yoga, and other Eastern philosophies. The traditional educators, on the other hand, believe that the Maharishi system is too unstructured and lacks the discipline necessary for academic success.

Maharishi and School Dept. at Odds

Continued From Page One

Sharon Dupre Named Coach
At Quinsig CC

Board Clears Preus
In Quinsig Hassle

The Stanley Daily Mirror, April 5, 1973

Sharon Dupre has been named head coach of the Quinsig CC women's basketball team. Dupre, a former player for the team, has been involved with the program for several years and is well-respected by the players. She replaces preus, who was fired last month after a series of losses at the hands of the rival teams.

Rides for the Paralyzed

The Van That Can... Does

The Evening Gazette, April 21, 1973

It was several minutes before the Regina wagon appeared at the open door of the President's Bus. It was a small, white, flat-drawn, and its owner, Mr. Bean, approached the wagon and asked if he could help. The driver, a young man, explained that the wagon was designed to carry children who are paralyzed. He demonstrated how the children could be comfortably transported in the wagon.

Van

Extracted Text

Van

Continued From Page 7

The Van That Can... Does

The Evening Gazette, April 21, 1973

It was several minutes before the Regina wagon appeared at the open door of the President's Bus. It was a small, white, flat-drawn, and its owner, Mr. Bean, approached the wagon and asked if he could help. The driver, a young man, explained that the wagon was designed to carry children who are paralyzed. He demonstrated how the children could be comfortably transported in the wagon.
State Audit and Probe

Being Sought at QCC

The Beacon Gazette
12/30/75

The State Board of Education is considering taking action against Quinsigamond Community College because of alleged mismanagement of its financial affairs. The board has hired a consulting firm to investigate the college's operations, and a hearing is scheduled for next week.

Panel Seeks College Probe

At Quinsigamond Community College, an audit team is examining the college's financial records and operations. The team is looking into allegations of mismanagement and will submit its findings to the State Board of Education.

State Board Clears Preus of QCC Mismanagement

By GREGORY R. EVANS
The State Board of Education has cleared Richard Preus, the president of Quinsigamond Community College, of any wrongdoing in the college's financial affairs. The board found that Preus acted in accordance with the law and the college's regulations.

Probes, Audit Sought

Quinsigamond Community College has been targeted by state officials for an investigation into its financial practices. The college is facing allegations of mismanagement and has been ordered to provide documentation of its operations.

State Board of Education

The State Board of Education is investigating Quinsigamond Community College for potential violations of state law. The board is working with the college to ensure compliance with state regulations and to address any issues that may arise.

State Board of Education

The State Board of Education is investigating Quinsigamond Community College for potential violations of state law. The board is working with the college to ensure compliance with state regulations and to address any issues that may arise.

State Board Clears Preus of QCC Mismanagement

By GREGORY R. EVANS

State Board of Education

The State Board of Education has cleared Richard Preus, the president of Quinsigamond Community College, of any wrongdoing in the college's financial affairs. The board found that Preus acted in accordance with the law and the college's regulations.

Probes, Audit Sought

Quinsigamond Community College has been targeted by state officials for an investigation into its financial practices. The college is facing allegations of mismanagement and has been ordered to provide documentation of its operations.

State Board of Education

The State Board of Education is investigating Quinsigamond Community College for potential violations of state law. The board is working with the college to ensure compliance with state regulations and to address any issues that may arise.

State Board of Education

The State Board of Education is investigating Quinsigamond Community College for potential violations of state law. The board is working with the college to ensure compliance with state regulations and to address any issues that may arise.

State Board of Education

The State Board of Education is investigating Quinsigamond Community College for potential violations of state law. The board is working with the college to ensure compliance with state regulations and to address any issues that may arise.
At Quinsigamond The Evening Gazette 10/16/75
MTA to Sue Panel To Reinstate Five

The Massachusetts Teachers Association will sue the Board of Trustees of Quin-sagamond Community College to force reinstatement of five teachers who lost their jobs at Quinsigamond Community College.

The teachers, who taught in the fields of business and education, were fired in a series of layoffs that began in the spring. The MTA claimed that the layoffs were unfair and violated state law.

Five teachers at Quinsigamond, two of whom are union members, were notified in July that they would be fired. The teachers, who have been teaching at the college for several years, said they were surprised by the decision. They said they had been performing well and had not been given any reason for their termination.

The MTA said it was prepared to file a lawsuit against the college to force the teachers back to work. The teachers, who teach courses in business and education, said they were hoping to resolve the issue through negotiations.

The college said it was unable to comment on the lawsuit.

From Page One

OCC Group Pushes for Preus Ouster

By GREGORY R. BYRNE

The OCC group, led by Professor Preus, is pushing for his ouster at Quinsigamond Community College. The group, which has been actively involved in the protests against Preus, has been calling for his resignation for several months.

"Preus has been running the college into the ground," said one member of the group. "He is incompetent and has made serious mistakes in managing the college." The group is demanding that Preus be replaced with a new president who will be more accountable to the students and faculty.

The OCC group has been holding protests outside the college administrative offices and has been distributing flyers and handouts to students and faculty.

Preus refused to comment on the group's demands, saying that he was focused on improving the college's finances and providing quality education to students.

Preus has been president of Quinsigamond Community College since 2015. The college has experienced significant financial difficulties during his tenure, and the OCC group has been criticizing his leadership.

Preus said he was committed to improving the college's finances and that he was working hard to attract new students and increase revenue.

"I am working tirelessly to make Quinsigamond a better institution," Preus said. "We are making progress, and I am confident that we will be able to overcome these challenges."

More College Applicants Seeking Aid

In Our Opinion...

Probing the State Colleges

Senior Emma A. Kelly's office has produced a disturbing study of the Massachusetts education system. It said the state colleges are being overcrowded and underfunded, and although they are doing their best to meet the demands of too many students, it seems that they are not being given the necessary resources to do so.

The report also suggests that the state colleges may be losing their best students to the University of California, which has a smaller student-to-faculty ratio and better resources.

In response, the Worcester Telegram editorializes that the state colleges need more funding and better facilities to compete with the private colleges.

college Applicants Setting Records Here

Worcester Telegram
March 27, 1975

The only college that received a drop in applications last year was the University of Massachusetts—Amherst. According to the University's admissions office, there was a slight decrease in applications, but the number of students accepted increased.

The University of Massachusetts—Amherst received 12,345 applications this year, compared to 12,456 last year. Of these, 8,500 were accepted, an increase of 100 from last year.

The University of Massachusetts—Amherst is the largest state college in the state, with a student body of over 17,000.

VETERANS SPRING SEMESTER 1976

Quinsigamond Community College
Center for Continuing Education and Community Services

WELCOMES VETERANS

DID YOU KNOW?

- $5,000 in tuition assistance is available for veterans.
- The college offers a variety of courses, including vocational, technical, and collegeBound.
- The college also offers a range of services, including counseling, tutoring, and support groups.
- Check the college's website for more information.

REGISTRATION & ACADEMIC COUNSELING

Students must register in person at the Student Center during the following official registration periods:

MONDAY-FRIDAY, JANUARY 22
9 A.M.-3 P.M. and 6:30-8:30 P.M.

For more information, please contact the Registrar's Office at (508) 749-2100.

Quinsigamond Community College
Worcester, Massachusetts

By Mary Smith, Veteran Counselor

Graphic design by Brian King

The Worcester Telegram
Complaints on Preus Are Going to Bellotti

By GREGORY K. BYRNE

The Boston Globe

The editorial board of The Boston Globe has received a number of letters from students, faculty, and other members of the campus community expressing concern about the recent changes to the division of Preus.

One of the most pressing issues is the move to online classes, which many students feel have negatively impacted their academic experience. Students have reported feeling isolated and disconnected from their peers and professors, and many have found it difficult to stay engaged in their coursework.

In addition, there have been concerns about the quality of online instruction. Some students have reported feeling that the online classes lack the same level of interaction and feedback as traditional classroom settings.

Many faculty members have also expressed concern about the changes to the division. They have reported feeling overworked and underappreciated, and some have expressed concern about the impact of the changes on their ability to perform their jobs effectively.

The editorial board has already begun to address these concerns, and we are working with the administration to find solutions that will address the needs of both students and faculty.

College programs funded

By William R. Carr

The Boston Globe

Many students are excited about the new college programs that are being funded by the University of Massachusetts. These programs will focus on areas such as science, technology, engineering, and mathematics (STEM), and they will provide students with the skills they need to succeed in these fields.

The University of Massachusetts has a long history of excellence in STEM education, and these new programs will help to continue that tradition. Students who are interested in pursuing careers in these fields will have access to a wealth of resources and opportunities, including internships, research opportunities, and mentorship programs.

The University of Massachusetts is committed to providing students with a high-quality education, and these new programs will be a valuable addition to the University's offerings. We encourage students to explore these opportunities and take advantage of the resources available to them.
Trade School Got All QCC Goods

By GREGORY R. BYRNE

Robert R. Parker, dean of vocational education at the Truman State College, has announced that the college will receive all the QCC goods that were ordered by the college. This is in response to the college's earlier order for QCC goods, which was placed with the college's purchasing department. The college has been working to ensure that all the QCC goods are received and delivered in a timely manner.

Meetings on QCC Probe to Be Closed

By GREGORY R. BYRNE

The meetings on QCC probe that were held last week were closed by the college's advisory board following the investigation. The college's advisory board has determined that the meetings were not necessary and have decided to close them.

Boyle Has His Cake And He Eats It Too

By JIM CONNOLLY

Of the Telegram Staff

At every American College basketball game, Boyle has been a familiar figure. He always wears his blue and gold jersey, and no one has ever questioned his loyalty to the team. Boyle has been a vocal supporter of the team, often cheering and shouting words of encouragement to his players. Despite his age, he remains a fixture at every game, always ready to offer words of advice to his players. Boyle's dedication to the team is evident in his unwavering support, and he is always a welcome sight at every game.
Economic Crunch Is Turning Area Halls of Ivy Browner

In-County Times  Staff Writer

Costs of college and university expenses have been soaring, and there is no end in sight for 1976.

Enrollments are expected to drop, reflecting the decline in college-age populations and the soaring expenses that everyone's been speaking about.

There are reports that many colleges are not receiving any funds, and some are not even paying any tuition at all. Some educational facilities are being closed, and some are being reduced.

Medical School

The total operating budget of the medical school has increased from $2 million in 1975 to $5 million in 1976. The budget for the Urban University Medical School is $10 million, and the budget for the regional schools is $7 million.

The cuts will affect operations in all areas of the medical school, and students will have to pay more tuition and fees.

Private Colleges

The city's private colleges have not been immune to the budget cuts. They face the same problems as the public universities, and they are also cutting back on their programs and services.

The city's private colleges have not been immune to the budget cuts. They face the same problems as the public universities, and they are also cutting back on their programs and services.

Quinsigmond Comm. College Worcester, MA 01606

Division of Continuing Education in cooperation with the Adult Education of the Spencer-East Brookfield Regional School District

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT RE: EVENING COURSES AT DAVID PROUTY HIGH SCHOOL

AC 151 Intro. to Accounting 1
AC 152 Intro. to Accounting 2
AC 251 Intro. to Psychology
PY 151 Psych. of Learning

REGISTRATION AND COUNSELING
MON. AND WED. JAN. 12, 14, 7-9:00 P.M.

DAVID PROUTY HIGH SCHOOL
Route 1, Spencer, Mass.
CLASSES BEGIN THE WEEK OF JAN. 26

For additional information, call 534-3400

The Op Ed Page

The Worcester Telegram

W. Boylston Woman Named to State Board

Worcester Telegram

Mrs. William C. Combraine, 24 N. Main St., was named to the Massachusetts State Board of Education by Governor Michael Dukakis.

Mrs. Combraine is a member of the Massachusetts State Board of Education and a member of the Massachusetts State Board of Education.

She is a member of the Massachusetts State Board of Education and a member of the Massachusetts State Board of Education.

In a statement, Governor Dukakis said, "I am delighted to welcome Mrs. Combraine to the state board. She brings a wealth of experience and knowledge to the board, and I am confident that she will make a valuable contribution to the education of our state's children."

Mrs. Combraine, a long-time resident of the city, is a former teacher and administrator in the Worcester Public Schools. She has served on numerous boards and committees, including the Massachusetts State Board of Education.

She is a respected member of the community and has been involved in many local organizations.

Mrs. Combraine has served on the Board of Directors of the Worcester Public School Foundation and on the Board of Trustees of the Massachusetts State Board of Education.

She has also been involved in numerous charitable organizations, including the Worcester Women's Club and the Massachusetts State Board of Education.

We are confident that Mrs. Combraine will make a valuable contribution to the state board and the education of our state's children.

Mr. Dukakis
City Orchestra to Offer Second Program

By RAYMOND MAULS

The world premiere of J. S. Bach's Mass in B minor will highlight the second program of the City Orchestra in concert on Sunday, May 7th, in Webster Park. The concert will be conducted by Maestro Robert J. C. McFarland, and will feature the Symphony Chorus as well as soloists from the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

The program will include:

1. J. S. Bach: Mass in B minor (world premiere)
2. Beethoven: Symphony No. 5
3. Tchaikovsky: Piano Concerto No. 1
4. Mozart: Overture to Don Giovanni

Tickets are available at the entrance of the concert hall for $10.00 each. Concertgoers are encouraged to arrive early to secure their seats.

Music

Raymond Mauls

The Poet's Corner

By RAYMOND MAULS

The world premiere of J. S. Bach's Mass in B minor will highlight the second program of the City Orchestra in concert on Sunday, May 7th, in Webster Park. The concert will be conducted by Maestro Robert J. C. McFarland, and will feature the Symphony Chorus as well as soloists from the Boston Symphony Orchestra.

The program will include:

1. J. S. Bach: Mass in B minor (world premiere)
2. Beethoven: Symphony No. 5
3. Tchaikovsky: Piano Concerto No. 1
4. Mozart: Overture to Don Giovanni

Tickets are available at the entrance of the concert hall for $10.00 each. Concertgoers are encouraged to arrive early to secure their seats.

Music

Raymond Mauls

THE WORCESTER COURIER

Panel Plans Probe of QCC Records

By RAYMOND MAULS

The panel plans to probe the records of QCC (Quincy College for Community), focusing on their policies regarding student conduct. The panel will meet on Wednesday, Jan 20, 1976, in the Chapel of the College. The meeting will be open to the public.

The panel plans to discuss:

1. The college's code of conduct and its implementation.
2. The handling of disciplinary cases and the fairness of the process.
3. The college's response to student complaints and grievances.

The panel will present a report of its findings at a later date.

Music

Raymond Mauls

THE WORCESTER COURIER

(The meeting will be held in the Chapel of Quincy College for Community.)

Panel Plans Probe of QCC Records

By RAYMOND MAULS

The panel plans to probe the records of QCC (Quincy College for Community), focusing on their policies regarding student conduct. The panel will meet on Wednesday, Jan 20, 1976, in the Chapel of the College. The meeting will be open to the public.

The panel plans to discuss:

1. The college's code of conduct and its implementation.
2. The handling of disciplinary cases and the fairness of the process.
3. The college's response to student complaints and grievances.

The panel will present a report of its findings at a later date.

Music

Raymond Mauls

THE WORCESTER COURIER
Rising Costs Debated
At Consumer Institute

By MARCIA G. BERG
The Telegram Staff

Worcester's leading newspaper recently held a panel discussion on the rising cost of living and its impact on consumers. The panel, which included experts from various fields, debated the causes of rising costs and potential solutions. The discussion highlighted the importance of consumer education and advocacy in addressing these issues.

Accent ... on Living

Draft of Warren

In the area of living, Bud Tingle and another neighborhood topic were discussed at a meeting. Bud, who is known for his commitment to community service, presented a draft of a new policy that would help residents manage their finances better. The policy suggests creating a fund to support local initiatives and reduce the burden of rising costs.

New Program for Consumer Aides Begins

By LAUREN D. SCHNITZEL

A new program for consumer aids was launched in Worcester to help consumers navigate the complexities of the current economic climate. The program, which is offered by the Consumer Services Department, provides free counseling and advocacy services to help consumers understand their rights and options. The program aims to empower consumers to take control of their financial situations and make informed decisions.
Senior Citizens: return to school? What for?

By Philip Davis

WORCESTER - The issue of "Education and the Elderly" may be far less dramatic than a Watergate or a Middle Eastern Crisis, but the ramifications that the education issue could have on senior citizens are very important in a different way.

The emphasis on elderly education programs is to attract older people back to the classrooms - a place that has been foreign to most elderly people for decades.

Why should a senior citizen want to return to school, a place that many consider as boring and having little to do with relevant issues in the real world?

Quinsigamond Community College

Dr. Robert Kastenbaum, chairman of the psychology department at the University of Massachusetts, Boston, said author of "New England, Old Age," recently spoke at Quinsigamond Community College on how education can meet the needs of the elderly.

The purpose of Dr. Kastenbaum's appearance was to kick-off a series of minicourses that will be available free to senior citizens during the coming months for self-enrichment and personal enrichment purposes.

Dr. Kastenbaum spoke to his audience of about 150 in an effort to show them that so-called golden years can be some of the most productive of your life.

He explained how a number of noted philosophers had once felt that adolescence was the most important part of their life, but when they got older they realized that those beliefs came during adolescence.

At this time, a person has visiting experiences, falls back on and has freedom from what he called the "privy concerns of everyday life."

Return to the Classroom

Dr. Kastenbaum cited the example of his father to show that an older person can return to the classroom and learn things that can be of what you no matter how old you are.

"My father was born in transit, in the United States, one of 14 children," he explained. "He was a musician but got warped during the depression. He then became a shipyard worker and at age 60, retired. He then started looking for something to do.

He had never graduated from high school but he saw an advertisement for a program to train psychiatric technicians and decided to go back to school. He hadn't been in a classroom for over 30 years and all he was afraid of was books. But he tried and he ultimately graduated first in his class.

"He then worked as a psychiatric technician until he was forced to retire at age 70. Today at age 74, he feels that his years at psychiatric technician were the best days of his life."

"You see, the overconfidence, the fear of going back to school and ultimately became a more exciting and interesting person."
Quinsigamond Grants

U.S. Asks Probe Of School Funds

By GREGORY M. STYLES

The federal government has asked for a probe into the financial practices of the Community College of Greater Springfield, following a series of allegations of mismanagement and misuse of funds. The probe was triggered by a report from the Inspector General's office, which found evidence of improper expenses and financial irregularities in the college's operations.

The college's administration has been accused of misusing federal funds, with allegations of waste, fraud, and abuse of authority. The probe will focus on the use of federal grants, which were intended to support educational programs and services.

The college's response to the allegations has been mixed. Some administrators have defended the college's practices, while others have expressed concern and support for the investigation.

In response to the probe, the college has initiated an internal review and has taken steps to improve its financial management systems. The college has also apologized for any wrongdoing and has committed to cooperating fully with the federal authorities.

Personal Growth Workshops Scheduled

A series of personal growth workshops are scheduled to be held on campus. These workshops are designed to help students develop their personal and professional skills. The workshops will cover a range of topics, including communication, time management, stress management, and career development.

The workshops will be led by experienced professionals and will be open to all students. Registration is required, and space is limited. Students are encouraged to sign up early to secure their spot.

Chief Overseer Resigns

Community College Post

The chief overseer of the Community College of Greater Springfield has resigned, effective immediately. This announcement comes amid ongoing investigations into financial irregularities and misuse of funds.

The college has been facing scrutiny from federal authorities, who have requested a probe into the school's financial practices. The chief overseer's resignation is expected to have a significant impact on the college's operations and management.

The college's board of trustees has appointed an interim chief overseer, who will oversee the college until a permanent replacement is found. The board has also expressed its commitment to maintaining the integrity and excellence of the college.

The college's students, faculty, and staff have been exprssing concern and support for the investigation and the decision to resign. The college has also issued a statement expressing its support for the affected individuals and reiterating its commitment to transparency and accountability.
impact

ECONOMICS

The Consortium has contributed more than $32 million to the local economy. These contributions include:

- Operating budget of Consortium institutions: $2.5 million
- Student spending: $10 million
- Visitor spending: $5 million

But most important, the Consortium provides a stable, local industry. It will not move elsewhere in search of cheaper labor costs, and thus it improves the local economy.

PEOPLE

The Consortium serves over 200,000 people each year:

- 25,000 students study in Worcester each year.
- 3,000 students are enrolled in the Consortium's schools.
- 1,000 people attend the Consortium's annual conferences.

EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY CENTER (EOC)

EOC, an outreach center serving low-income Worcester residents, has provided information, counseling, and guidance to over 1,000 students.

WATER QUALITY

The Consortium has collaborated with the Worcester Health Department on a major study of the city's water supply. This project is crucial for ensuring the quality of the city's water.

EDUCATION AND THE ELDERLY

The Consortium has established a free shuttle service for elderly residents, providing transportation to community events and programs.

SUMMARY

The Consortium is a vital resource for Worcester, providing economic, educational, and cultural opportunities to the community. Its contributions are immeasurable and its impact profound.
'Home' Is Where Quinsig Finds a Basket

BY DICK CERANOGLO

Larry Reed doesn't look like a basketball player. He looks like the kind you'd expect to see in the town hall. Reed is a small, slender man, but there's nothing slow about him. He's quick on his feet, and he never seems to be out of breath. Reed is a basketball player for the Quinsigats, a small team from a small town in the north of the country.

Reed has been playing basketball for as long as he can remember. He started playing in grade school, and he never stopped. Reed is a natural leader, and he's always been a good friend to his teammates. He's a great player, and he always gives his best effort.

With his dedication, Reed will keep the kids moving, and they'll keep on playing. He'll be back next year, and he'll be even better than he was this year. Reed is a great player, and he's a great person. He's a true friend to his teammates, and he's a true friend to the town.

Quinsig Head Says He Welcomes Probe

BY MARK SILVERMAN

The president of Quinsig University, Dr. George Jones, welcomed the news of a federal investigation into the college's tuition practices. Dr. Jones said that he was confident that the college would come out of the investigation with its reputation intact.

The investigation, which was launched by the Department of Education, was prompted by a complaint from a former student who alleged that the college had overcharged her for tuition.

Dr. Jones said that he was confident that the college would be able to demonstrate that it had not overcharged any students. He said that the college had a strict policy of charging students for what they had actually enrolled in, and that all charges were clearly explained to students.

Preus Says He Welcomes New Probe

BY ARTHUR CHASE

The president of Preus College, Dr. Charles Preus, welcomed the news of a new investigation into the college's financial practices. Dr. Preus said that he was confident that the college would come out of the investigation with its reputation intact.

The investigation, which was launched by the Department of Education, was prompted by a complaint from a former student who alleged that the college had overcharged her for tuition.

Dr. Preus said that he was confident that the college would be able to demonstrate that it had not overcharged any students. He said that the college had a strict policy of charging students for what they had actually enrolled in, and that all charges were clearly explained to students.
Trustees Chide QCC On Business Methods

By GREGORY R. BYNNE

The Associated Press

By GREGORY R. BYNNE

The Evening Gazette

March 15, 1975

In a letter to the Senate of the Associated Press, the president of the Associated Press, President Paul C. Pencer, delivered his 5th annual message to the senators of the Associated Press. In his speech, Pencer stated that the Associated Press is once again embarking on a new era of journalistic excellence, and that the Associated Press will continue to provide the highest quality of service to the Senate of the Associated Press.

Pencer said that the Associated Press is committed to providing the Senate of the Associated Press with the most accurate and up-to-date information available. He noted that the Associated Press is dedicated to delivering news that is timely, relevant, and informative, and that the Associated Press is committed to maintaining the highest standards of journalistic integrity.

Pencer also stated that the Associated Press is committed to providing the Senate of the Associated Press with the most comprehensive and detailed analysis of the issues facing the Senate. He noted that the Associated Press is dedicated to providing the Senate with the most accurate and up-to-date information available on the issues facing the Senate, and that the Associated Press is committed to maintaining the highest standards of journalistic excellence.

Pencer concluded his speech by expressing his gratitude to the Senate of the Associated Press for their continued support of the Associated Press. He noted that the Associated Press is committed to serving the Senate of the Associated Press, and that the Associated Press is dedicated to providing the Senate with the most accurate and up-to-date information available on the issues facing the Senate.

Pencer said that the Associated Press is committed to providing the Senate with the most accurate and up-to-date information available on the issues facing the Senate, and that the Associated Press is committed to maintaining the highest standards of journalistic excellence.

Pencer concluded his speech by expressing his gratitude to the Senate of the Associated Press for their continued support of the Associated Press. He noted that the Associated Press is committed to serving the Senate of the Associated Press, and that the Associated Press is dedicated to providing the Senate with the most accurate and up-to-date information available on the issues facing the Senate.

Pencer said that the Associated Press is committed to providing the Senate with the most accurate and up-to-date information available on the issues facing the Senate, and that the Associated Press is committed to maintaining the highest standards of journalistic excellence.

Pencer concluded his speech by expressing his gratitude to the Senate of the Associated Press for their continued support of the Associated Press. He noted that the Associated Press is committed to serving the Senate of the Associated Press, and that the Associated Press is dedicated to providing the Senate with the most accurate and up-to-date information available on the issues facing the Senate.
Letters to the Editor

Bread, Butter and a College Education

To the Editor:

Mark S. Sherman's article on college students purchasing bread and butter underscored the grave situation faced by many students in today's economy. It's true that bread and butter are staples of most students' diets, but the cost of these items has risen significantly, putting a strain on their budgets.

The increase in prices has forced students to spend more of their limited funds on basic necessities. This is particularly challenging for students who are already facing financial difficulties due to tuition costs and other expenses.

Sincerely,

[Signature]

Lawrence E. Fox

Worcester Community College

Children's Theater Play: "Raggedy Ann and Andy"

On Stage This Week

1960

Molly Harris

Children's Theater Play: "Raggedy Ann and Andy"

On Stage This Week

1960

Molly Harris

Social Security's income supplements, also known as "supplemental security income," are not able to provide a safeguard against poverty among older people.

[Continued on next page]

Professor in Kansas

Inspired Hamilton

By Viola Davis

State Staff

Washed Clothes Hamilton

Discharged from service in 1960 Century

"I've been working on the good will of Charles Hamilton and decided to attend college."

Hamilton's rise from the dire poverty of his youth to the leadership of a state college board is a remarkable story of personal achievement and the determination to overcome obstacles.

Hamilton, born in a small town in the rural Midwest, grew up in a family of modest means. He was the oldest of seven children, and his parents struggled to make ends meet.

Although he has not had the advantage of a college education, Hamilton said, "I believe that the key to success is hard work and determination."

When Hamilton was elected to the state board of education, he faced a difficult challenge. The board was divided, and many were skeptical of his ability to lead.

Hamilton's experience in social work has given him a unique perspective on the issues facing the state. He has been able to bring a fresh approach to the problems facing the college system.

Hamilton said that his goal is to "provide a quality education for all students, regardless of their background or economic status."

When Hamilton was elected to the state board of education, he faced a difficult challenge. The board was divided, and many were skeptical of his ability to lead.

Hamilton's experience in social work has given him a unique perspective on the issues facing the state. He has been able to bring a fresh approach to the problems facing the college system.

Hamilton said that his goal is to "provide a quality education for all students, regardless of their background or economic status."

When Hamilton was elected to the state board of education, he faced a difficult challenge. The board was divided, and many were skeptical of his ability to lead.
License Hikers? Trail Clubs Discuss It

By LEE J. MEYERS
of The Telegram Staff

HERE'S the news: A group of people carrying backpacks was stopped by a trail club after they were spotted entering a restricted area. The club said they were trying to hike unpermitted trails.

State Auditor Cancels OCC Probe Hearings

By GREGORY R. BYRD
of The Telegram Staff

The Oregon State Auditor has decided to cancel scheduled probe hearings for the Oregon Community College (OCC). The auditor's office said the probe was not necessary and that the college was taking steps to address concerns.

License Hikers? Trail Clubs Discuss It

The problems we have with hikers are mostly on this campus and in the area, but we have heard complaints from people who live nearby. Some of the issues include leaving trash behind, trampling plants, and cutting down trees.

State Auditor Cancels OCC Probe Hearings

The Oregon State Auditor has decided to cancel scheduled probe hearings for the Oregon Community College (OCC). The auditor's office said the probe was not necessary and that the college was taking steps to address concerns.

License Hikers? Trail Clubs Discuss It

The problems we have with hikers are mostly on this campus and in the area, but we have heard complaints from people who live nearby. Some of the issues include leaving trash behind, trampling plants, and cutting down trees.

State Auditor Cancels OCC Probe Hearings

The Oregon State Auditor has decided to cancel scheduled probe hearings for the Oregon Community College (OCC). The auditor's office said the probe was not necessary and that the college was taking steps to address concerns.
Quinsig Funds to Get Post Audit Hearings

The Evening Gazette, April 21, 1976

Quinsigamond Campus Firing Is Protested

By GREGORY R. BYRNE

The Quinsigamond Community College has called for a full investigation of the termination of a college policeman after an officer's report of the incident was not acted on.

Robert McNeil, director of the college's Police Services, said the incident involved a new employee who had been employed for less than a month.

McNeil said the officer had reported the incident in November, but that the college had not taken any action.

The College's board of trustees is expected to vote on the matter later this month.

Quinsigamond is a public community college located in Worcester, Massachusetts.

Requirements For Nurses May Change

Registered nurses in Massachusetts are required to complete 20 hours of continuing education each year, as mandated by the State Board of Nursing.

The board is considering changes to these requirements, including increasing the number of hours needed and altering the types of courses that can be counted.

The changes would be implemented in January 2023.

From Metro Page

Firing

Colin F. O'Brien

The firing of a Quinsigamond Community College employee has sparked controversy on campus.

The employee, a 25-year-old janitor, had been with the college for two years.

According to sources, the employee was fired after a disagreement with a supervisor over the handling of a student's lot.

The employee had been a popular figure on campus, and many students and faculty expressed shock at the news.

The college has not commented on the matter.

On Another Metro Page

The Quinsigamond Community College is scheduled to host a series of public forums next month to discuss the future of the campus.

The forums will be held on Wednesdays at 7 p.m. in the college's auditorium.

Topics to be discussed include the college's budget, its long-range plans, and its role in the community.
Preus Rejected Halt To Moonlighting

By GREGORY V. BYRNE

Quinsigamond Community College President Paul D. Preus rejected the Worcester Telegram's proposal to increase the number of moonlighting educators at the college.

The college, led by Preus, operates a program that allows full-time faculty members to moonlight as part-time professors at other institutions. The proposal suggests that the number of moonlighting educators should be increased from 30 to 40.

Preus, however, said the college already has a policy that restricts moonlighting to 30 hours per week. He argued that increasing the number of moonlighting educators would compromise the quality of education at the college.

He added that the college has a policy that restricts moonlighting to 30 hours per week. He argued that increasing the number of moonlighting educators would compromise the quality of education at the college.

Preus also said that increasing the number of moonlighting educators would require additional staff to supervise the moonlighting educators.

He added that the college has a policy that restricts moonlighting to 30 hours per week. He argued that increasing the number of moonlighting educators would compromise the quality of education at the college.

Preus also said that increasing the number of moonlighting educators would require additional staff to supervise the moonlighting educators.

He added that the college has a policy that restricts moonlighting to 30 hours per week. He argued that increasing the number of moonlighting educators would compromise the quality of education at the college.

Preus also said that increasing the number of moonlighting educators would require additional staff to supervise the moonlighting educators.

He added that the college has a policy that restricts moonlighting to 30 hours per week. He argued that increasing the number of moonlighting educators would compromise the quality of education at the college.
Agencies to Present Alcoholic Films

The annual Cornell-Marshall Film Festival will be held from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. May 19 at the Rosemund Auditorium. The official word is being circulated by several alumni and alcoholic treatment agencies. The main purpose of the film festival is to make pro-

State Audit and Probe

Being Sought at QCC

The faculty of the State Community College at Queensbury recently presented the board with a proposal for an investigation into the handling of student complaints and other problems on the campus. The faculty expressed concern about the adequacy of the administrative procedures and the need for better communication between the administration and the students. The faculty also requested that the administration provide a formal mechanism for the resolution of student complaints. The administration has agreed to conduct a review of the current procedures and to implement any necessary changes.
Probers Say They Planned
To Ask for Preus Resignation

From Page One

QCC President to Be Picked

From the Evening Gazette, May 12, 1975

To Ask for Preus Resignation

By Carroll Strode

Probers say they planned to ask for Preus' resignation.

The Evening Gazette May 12, 1975

QCC President to Be Picked

The Evening Gazette May 17, 1975

From Page One

Quinsigamond Chronology

The Evening Gazette May 12, 1975

Furniture shift probe urged

The illegal illegal activity of owning and operating a restaurant and bar in a building that is not a restaurant and bar is illegal in the state of Massachusetts.

From the Evening Gazette, May 19, 1975

MARCH 4TH - Students at the college were upset by the illegal activity of the restaurant and bar.

MARCH 5TH - The college administration was aware of the illegal activity.

APRIL 3RD - The college administration was aware of the illegal activity.

MAY 9TH - The college administration was aware of the illegal activity.

Furniture shift probe urged

The illegal illegal activity of owning and operating a restaurant and bar in a building that is not a restaurant and bar is illegal in the state of Massachusetts.

From the Evening Gazette, May 19, 1975

MARCH 4TH - Students at the college were upset by the illegal activity of the restaurant and bar.

MARCH 5TH - The college administration was aware of the illegal activity.

APRIL 3RD - The college administration was aware of the illegal activity.

MAY 9TH - The college administration was aware of the illegal activity.

From the Evening Gazette, May 19, 1975

MARCH 4TH - Students at the college were upset by the illegal activity of the restaurant and bar.

MARCH 5TH - The college administration was aware of the illegal activity.

APRIL 3RD - The college administration was aware of the illegal activity.

MAY 9TH - The college administration was aware of the illegal activity.

From the Evening Gazette, May 19, 1975

MARCH 4TH - Students at the college were upset by the illegal activity of the restaurant and bar.

MARCH 5TH - The college administration was aware of the illegal activity.

APRIL 3RD - The college administration was aware of the illegal activity.

MAY 9TH - The college administration was aware of the illegal activity.

From the Evening Gazette, May 19, 1975

MARCH 4TH - Students at the college were upset by the illegal activity of the restaurant and bar.

MARCH 5TH - The college administration was aware of the illegal activity.

APRIL 3RD - The college administration was aware of the illegal activity.

MAY 9TH - The college administration was aware of the illegal activity.

From the Evening Gazette, May 19, 1975

MARCH 4TH - Students at the college were upset by the illegal activity of the restaurant and bar.

MARCH 5TH - The college administration was aware of the illegal activity.

APRIL 3RD - The college administration was aware of the illegal activity.

MAY 9TH - The college administration was aware of the illegal activity.

From the Evening Gazette, May 19, 1975

MARCH 4TH - Students at the college were upset by the illegal activity of the restaurant and bar.

MARCH 5TH - The college administration was aware of the illegal activity.

APRIL 3RD - The college administration was aware of the illegal activity.

MAY 9TH - The college administration was aware of the illegal activity.
OCC Files Show 24-Hour Week, 40-Hour Wage

The Evening Gazette
May 15, 1976

Guards Got 'Bonus Pay'

State Auditor Asks Probe of Quinsig

The Evening Gazette
May 15, 1976

Quinsig Faults Documented: More to Be Revealed Today

The Worcester Telegram
May 15, 1976

OCC Records Show 'Double Payments'

The Evening Gazette
May 15, 1976

Educational workshop for veterans scheduled

A recent educational workshop will be held on Saturday, May 28, 1976, in the auditorium of the Springfield Vocational and Technical High School. The program is sponsored by several local Massachusetts colleges.

Guards' Pay

Guards' pay was the topic of a recent audit. The report revealed that guards were paid for longer hours than they actually worked. This issue has raised questions about the accuracy of the audit and the need for better timekeeping practices.

State Auditor Asks Probe of Quinsig

The state auditor has requested an investigation into allegations of mismanagement and financial irregularities at the Quinsig Resort. The auditor's office is working closely with local law enforcement agencies to ensure a thorough investigation.

Quinsig Faults Documented: More to Be Revealed Today

The Worcester Telegram has reported on recent findings that highlight the ongoing problems at the Quinsig Resort. These findings will be discussed in detail during a public meeting to be held on May 28, 1976.

OCC Records Show 'Double Payments'

Court records indicate that OCC employees were paid more than once for the same work. The situation has raised concerns about the financial integrity of the organization and the need for better record-keeping practices.
Court Handed Fines Back to College Fund

By GREGORY R. STYNES

The Eastern Gazette
May 30, 1976

Legislative Board Reaffirmed that the University of Vermont's College of Medicine and the College of Arts and Sciences are to be separated, according to press releases from the college and the legislative board. The move was made after the College of Medicine was granted a separate status by the Legislative Board. The college has been operating under the name of the College of Arts and Sciences since 1975.

College Board Head on Hot Seat

By MARK SILVERMAN

Worcester Telegram
May 30, 1976

Worcester, Mass. - The Worcester State College Board of Trustees and President Joseph J. Devine have been criticized by the city's mayor, Mayor William F. Kennedy, for their handling of the college's finances. Devine has been accused of mismanage- ment and financial misfeasance.

Quinsig Probe Shifts to College Board Head, Staff

Continued from Page One

The college's president, John P. Flaherty, has been named as the head of the college's investigation into the probe. Flaherty has been accused of using college funds for personal purposes.

News Digest

Quinsig's Books To Be Opened

May 18, 1976

The trustees of the Quinsigamond Community College have announced that they will open the college's books to the public. This is the first time in the college's history that the books have been opened to the public.

Eines

Eines has been named as the new president of the Quinsigamond Community College. Eines has been a long-time faculty member of the college.

Letter to the Editor

March 16, 1976

I am a student of Worcester Technical School District and have been a student for three years. Recently, I have been asked to fill out a form for the college. I have been told that I must sign the form in order to continue in the program. I have asked to see the form and have been told that it is confidential. I have asked to see the form and have been told that it is confidential.

Letter to the Editor

March 16, 1976

I am a student of Worcester Technical School District and have been a student for three years. Recently, I have been asked to fill out a form for the college. I have been told that I must sign the form in order to continue in the program. I have asked to see the form and have been told that it is confidential. I have asked to see the form and have been told that it is confidential.

Letter to the Editor

March 16, 1976

I am a student of Worcester Technical School District and have been a student for three years. Recently, I have been asked to fill out a form for the college. I have been told that I must sign the form in order to continue in the program. I have asked to see the form and have been told that it is confidential. I have asked to see the form and have been told that it is confidential.
40 state officials hiked 75 incomes by moonlighting

The program of top officials of the state government is being investigated for alleged "moonlighting" by moonlighting.

40 state officials hiked 75 incomes by moonlighting

Student Treasurer Resigns at Quinsig

Running Colleges Is Being Probed

By GREGORY R. BYRNE

The student body of the University of Wisconsin has been asked to report on the "moonlighting" of top officials. The program of top officials of the state government is being investigated for alleged "moonlighting" by moonlighting.

40 state officials hiked 75 incomes by moonlighting

Student Treasurer Resigns at Quinsig

Running Colleges Is Being Probed

By GREGORY R. BYRNE

The student body of the University of Wisconsin has been asked to report on the "moonlighting" of top officials. The program of top officials of the state government is being investigated for alleged "moonlighting" by moonlighting.
New Double Checks Are Found at QCC

By GREGORY R. BYRNE
The News-Gazette
5/22/10

"I don't think I'm going anywhere this year. I won't even stay at home," said a student at Quinsigamond Community College.

Quinsigamond

On Monday, March 22, the administration of Quinsigamond Community College announced the discovery of a double check system, which has been in place for several years.

The system involves students receiving two checks for each course they register for, one for the course fee and another for the textbook fee.

"We were just going through our records and noticed that some students were receiving two checks," said the dean of student services.

The double check system is designed to ensure that students receive the necessary materials for their courses.

Board Rapped in QCC Affair

By GREGORY R. BYRNE
The news gazette
1/22/10

The Board of Trustees of Quinsigamond Community College has been criticized for its handling of the recent double check system incident.

"The board's response was inadequate," said a student activist.

The double check system was revealed to the public earlier this year, leading to widespread criticism and a call for the board to take action.

School's Woes Cloud Quinsigamond Graduation

By MARK SILVERMAN
The News-Gazette
5/22/10

The Quinsigamond Community College graduation ceremony was marred by a number of problems.

"The ceremony was a disaster," said a student who attended.

The problems included a lack of coordination, technical difficulties, and a shortage of graduation gowns.

"I don't think I'm going anywhere this year. I won't even stay at home," said a student at Quinsigamond Community College.
Quinsigamond CC Awards 589 Degrees

Quinsigamond Community College in Worcester this fall awarded 589 degrees to students. Several graduates who attended the college this fall, received their degrees in various fields. Some of the graduates are

Closed Session
Panel Will Weigh Quinsigamond Case

Panel members will meet in a closed session to make a decision on the case. The panel consists of representatives from the college and the state board of higher education.

Quinsigamond
26th District
Seat Sought
By Chernisky

Chernisky is running for the 26th District seat. He is a member of the American Federation of Teachers and represents the college faculty.

Off-Campus Work
Charges Are Denied

The Evening Gazette 6/12/76

Quinsigamond Paid Son $1,590

Records Show Harney Gave Kin Jobs

By GREGORY R. BYRNE
The Evening Gazette

Quinsigamond College purchased $1,590 in supplies from the Post Office. The purchase was made by the college's bookkeeper, who was paid $1,590. The purchase included supplies such as paper, ink, and stamps.

28th District
Seat Sought
By Chernisky

Chernisky is running for the 28th District seat. He is a member of the American Federation of Teachers and represents the college faculty.
Panel Plans Hearings On Quinsig Official

Quinsigmond charges bring investigation

Charges of mismanagement, leveled by faculty of Quinsigmond Community College against the college's president, have led to formal investigation by Quinsigmond President Robert M. Tyng. The investigation was initiated by the college's board of trustees.

The investigation was initiated by the college's board of trustees.

Response is overdue

PAY VARIANCES SHOWN IN POST AUDIT REPORT

The Worcester Tenth Telegram 2/18/76

Quinsigmond

Continued from Page 21

Quinsigmond

Continued from Page 21

Pay Variance Shown in Post Audit Report

The Worcester Tenth Telegram 2/18/76

The post audit report by the Board of Directors of Quinsigmond Community College showed that the college has a deficit of $13,984 for the fiscal year, despite the fact that the college had a surplus of $13,984 for the same period. The report also showed that the college had a deficit of $13,984 for the fiscal year, despite the fact that the college had a surplus of $13,984 for the same period.

The report also showed that the college had a deficit of $13,984 for the fiscal year, despite the fact that the college had a surplus of $13,984 for the same period.

The report also showed that the college had a deficit of $13,984 for the fiscal year, despite the fact that the college had a surplus of $13,984 for the same period.

The report also showed that the college had a deficit of $13,984 for the fiscal year, despite the fact that the college had a surplus of $13,984 for the same period.

The report also showed that the college had a deficit of $13,984 for the fiscal year, despite the fact that the college had a surplus of $13,984 for the same period.

The report also showed that the college had a deficit of $13,984 for the fiscal year, despite the fact that the college had a surplus of $13,984 for the same period.

The report also showed that the college had a deficit of $13,984 for the fiscal year, despite the fact that the college had a surplus of $13,984 for the same period.

The report also showed that the college had a deficit of $13,984 for the fiscal year, despite the fact that the college had a surplus of $13,984 for the same period.

The report also showed that the college had a deficit of $13,984 for the fiscal year, despite the fact that the college had a surplus of $13,984 for the same period.

The report also showed that the college had a deficit of $13,984 for the fiscal year, despite the fact that the college had a surplus of $13,984 for the same period.

The report also showed that the college had a deficit of $13,984 for the fiscal year, despite the fact that the college had a surplus of $13,984 for the same period.

The report also showed that the college had a deficit of $13,984 for the fiscal year, despite the fact that the college had a surplus of $13,984 for the same period.

The report also showed that the college had a deficit of $13,984 for the fiscal year, despite the fact that the college had a surplus of $13,984 for the same period.

The report also showed that the college had a deficit of $13,984 for the fiscal year, despite the fact that the college had a surplus of $13,984 for the same period.

The report also showed that the college had a deficit of $13,984 for the fiscal year, despite the fact that the college had a surplus of $13,984 for the same period.

The report also showed that the college had a deficit of $13,984 for the fiscal year, despite the fact that the college had a surplus of $13,984 for the same period.

The report also showed that the college had a deficit of $13,984 for the fiscal year, despite the fact that the college had a surplus of $13,984 for the same period.
Quinsig Custodians Cite Off-Campus Jobs

By EDWARD B. DYER

The Evening Gazette 6/20/75

Community Colleges Flunk Audit

By GREGORY R. DYER

The Evening Gazette 6/21/75

Quinsig Custodians Cite Private Jobs

By EDWARD B. DYER

The Evening Gazette 6/21/75

 Colleges Flunk Audit

By GREGORY R. DYER

The Evening Gazette 6/21/75

Scott is Named Interim Dean At Quinsigamond

By WILLIAM J. SMITH

The Evening Gazette 6/21/75

Post-Audit Interim Report

On Quinsig College Postponed

The Evening Gazette 6/21/75
Quinsig Nine Wins Pair

SHELBURNE — Quinsig did not have to do much last week to snap its winning streak, cruising to a 5-3 victory over Woodstock Academy.

On Monday, Quinsig (2-0) took on Woodstock Academy (2-0) in a game that was already decided by the fourth inning. Quinsig scored three runs in the first inning and added two more in the second, putting the game out of reach.

The pitching was exceptional on both sides. Quinsig's starter, John Smith, allowed just one hit and one walk in five innings, striking out seven. Woodstock Academy's starter, Mike Johnson, allowed three runs on six hits and three walks in five innings, striking out five.

Quinsig's offense was powered by three home runs, including a two-run shot by Ben Brown in the first inning and a solo shot by Sam Green in the second. Woodstock Academy answered with a run in the third, but quelled by a pair of double plays in the fourth and fifth innings.

The win improved Quinsig's record to 2-0 on the season, while Woodstock Academy fell to 2-1. The two teams will meet again later in the season.
Junior College Recruiters Are Active

State Resumes Harney Probe In QCC Row

Ex-QCC Help Charged 'Padding'

Post Audit Report Blames Board for Quinsig Violations

From Page One

Ex-QCC Help Charged 'Padding'

Post Audit Committee Finds Report on Quinsigamond Is Due

By GREGORY P. SYRENS

The report of the Post Audit Committee's investigation of the finances, the operations and the infrastructure of Quinsigamond Community College is due.

The report, which was conducted by the Post Audit Committee, has been in the hands of the college administration for several months. The report, which was prepared by the college's accounting department, was submitted to the Board of Trustees in May.

The report is expected to be released in the next few weeks. The college administration has been working on the release of the report for several months.

The report is expected to be released in the next few weeks. The college administration has been working on the release of the report for several months.

The report is expected to be released in the next few weeks. The college administration has been working on the release of the report for several months.

The report is expected to be released in the next few weeks. The college administration has been working on the release of the report for several months.

The report is expected to be released in the next few weeks. The college administration has been working on the release of the report for several months.

The report is expected to be released in the next few weeks. The college administration has been working on the release of the report for several months.

The report is expected to be released in the next few weeks. The college administration has been working on the release of the report for several months.

The report is expected to be released in the next few weeks. The college administration has been working on the release of the report for several months.

The report is expected to be released in the next few weeks. The college administration has been working on the release of the report for several months.

The report is expected to be released in the next few weeks. The college administration has been working on the release of the report for several months.
Quinsig Audit: State Staff Also Faulted

by GREGORY P. BURKES

Quinsigamond Community College is the state's only community college system with a single governing board and a single president. The board of trustees is responsible for the management of the college, and the president is appointed by the board. The college has been subject to a number of audits and investigations over the years, and the most recent one was conducted by the state auditor's office.

The board of trustees has been criticized for its handling of the college's finances and its relation with the state attorney general's office. The college has faced a number of financial difficulties and has been accused of mismanagement and lack of transparency.

From Page One

Audit Shows Mismangement

The legislative auditor, following the order of the Senate, conducted the audit of the college's financial operations and found significant mismanagement. The report concluded that the college had been improperly managing its finances and was in violation of state law. The auditor recommended that the college be placed under an independent oversight committee and that the president be removed from office.

Probe of Harney's Conduct

More Quinsig Hearings Due

The hearings on the allegations against the college's president, Alphonse Harney, have been extended. The state auditor's office has issued a report that raises questions about Harney's conduct and the college's financial management.

Trooper Maroney Named Corporal

John T. Maroney, Jr., of the State Troopers' Association, has been named a corporal. He was previously a trooper and has been involved in a number of high-profile cases in the state.

Suspension of the Wire, Telegraph Due to Quinsig Inquiry

The suspension of the wire, telegraph service due to the Quinsig inquiry was lifted. The service had been suspended due to the ongoing investigation.

Dental Hygiene Clinic is Open

The Dental Hygiene Clinic at Quinsigamond Community College is now open for business. The clinic offers a variety of dental services and is part of the college's continuing education program.
Quinsigamond gets reprieve

The Telegram Aug 12 1976

of the Telegram Staff

Quinsigamond Community College President Paul M. Prouty and one of its struggles, the Institute of Environmental Studies, are being offered a reprieve from possible cuts.

The college, which has been facing severe budget constraints, had previously announced plans to cut the institute's programs in order to save money. However, Prouty and the college's administration have worked with state officials to find alternative funding sources for the institute.

"We are very grateful to the state for recognizing the importance of environmental education," Prouty said. "This reprieve will give us time to explore other options and find a long-term solution for the institute's financial woes."

The institute, which offers courses in environmental science, has been a valuable resource for the community, providing opportunities for students to learn about the environment and its challenges.

The move comes as the college continues to face budget difficulties, with projections indicating a $2 million deficit for the upcoming fiscal year. Prouty said the college is working to explore other ways to generate revenue and reduce costs, including potential partnerships with local businesses and organizations.

"We are committed to providing a high-quality education to our students," Prouty said. "We will continue to explore all options to ensure the sustainability of our programs and the future of our college."
Quinsigamond's Man Is No Headhunter

By GREGORY R. BYRNES

On a hunch, a man in a hat
On a hunch, a man in a hat.
On a hunch, a man in a hat.

He set out to find the right man in the right place, to find the man who could help him in his quest.

A hunch is a hunch is a hunch.

State Sets Hearing On Harney Conduct

The personal embattlement of the state Board of Regents for Higher Education is well underway. The hearings are being conducted by the board chair, John D. Harney.

On a hunch, a man in a hat.

On a hunch, a man in a hat.

On a hunch, a man in a hat.

State College Board Told to Change Aides

The Evening Gazette, Aug. 7, 1965

Quinsigamond's Man Is No Headhunter

By GREGORY R. BYRNES

On a hunch, a man in a hat
On a hunch, a man in a hat.
On a hunch, a man in a hat.

He set out to find the right man in the right place, to find the man who could help him in his quest.

A hunch is a hunch is a hunch.

State Sets Hearing On Harney Conduct

The personal embattlement of the state Board of Regents for Higher Education is well underway. The hearings are being conducted by the board chair, John D. Harney.

On a hunch, a man in a hat.

On a hunch, a man in a hat.

On a hunch, a man in a hat.

State College Board Told to Change Aides

The Evening Gazette, Aug. 7, 1965

Quinsigamond's Man Is No Headhunter

By GREGORY R. BYRNES

On a hunch, a man in a hat
On a hunch, a man in a hat.
On a hunch, a man in a hat.

He set out to find the right man in the right place, to find the man who could help him in his quest.

A hunch is a hunch is a hunch.

State Sets Hearing On Harney Conduct

The personal embattlement of the state Board of Regents for Higher Education is well underway. The hearings are being conducted by the board chair, John D. Harney.

On a hunch, a man in a hat.

On a hunch, a man in a hat.

On a hunch, a man in a hat.

State College Board Told to Change Aides

The Evening Gazette, Aug. 7, 1965

Quinsigamond's Man Is No Headhunter

By GREGORY R. BYRNES

On a hunch, a man in a hat
On a hunch, a man in a hat.
On a hunch, a man in a hat.

He set out to find the right man in the right place, to find the man who could help him in his quest.

A hunch is a hunch is a hunch.

State Sets Hearing On Harney Conduct

The personal embattlement of the state Board of Regents for Higher Education is well underway. The hearings are being conducted by the board chair, John D. Harney.

On a hunch, a man in a hat.

On a hunch, a man in a hat.

On a hunch, a man in a hat.
State Urges Overhaul Of Colleges’ Finances

By GREGORY R. SYKES

The state Office of Administrative Services and Finance is preparing a major review of higher education costs, including the establishment of a state accounting system.

Edward J. O’Leary, director of the Office of Administrative Services and Finance, said the review’s purpose is to gather data that will help determine whether the current financial systems of the state’s colleges and universities are effective.

Under the new system, all financial data will be recorded in a computerized format, and the data will be analyzed to identify areas where improvements can be made.

The review will involve all state colleges and universities, and the results will be used to help develop a new financial management system for the state’s higher education institutions.

The review is expected to take several months, and the results will be available in late 2023.
Middle-Aged Freshmen Told College Won't Be a Pushover

The Worcester Sunday Telegram 8 August 1996

"It can be in any season, and you can make it if you try your best to keep your mind open," said President William P. McPherson. "Just as in college, they may be difficult, but if you work hard and persevere, they can lead to success."
College Panel OKs
Dwyer's Resignation

By GREGORY R. BYRNE

The executive committee of the Massachusetts Board of Education yesterday accepted the resignation of William M. Dwyer, president of the Board of Education. Dwyer, 62, is the second president of the Board of Education to resign in less than a year.

Dwyer, who has been president of the Board of Education since 1959, has served for 12 years on the board. He has been the subject of a series of complaints by parents and teachers regarding the operation of the school system.

Community Colleges
Get Wood's Support

By GREGORY R. BYRNE

The president of the University of Massachusetts-Boston, William S. Wood, has announced that he will support the establishment of community colleges in Massachusetts. Wood has been a strong advocate of the idea for several years.

State Action for Picking President
OCC Panel Raps Board

By GREGORY R. BYRNE

The OCC Board of Trustees yesterday approved a resolution calling for the resignation of the OCC Board of Trustees.

The resolution, introduced by OCC President William S. Wood, charges the board with failure to fulfill its responsibilities and with a lack of leadership in the community college system.

State Urges Overhaul of Colleges' Finances

The state Board of Education has recommended that the state take over the financial operations of the state's community colleges. The Board of Education has expressed concern about the current financial situation of the community colleges.

The Board of Education has recommended that the state take over the financial operations of the state's community colleges. The Board of Education has expressed concern about the current financial situation of the community colleges.

Community Colleges
Get Wood's Support

By GREGORY R. BYRNE

The president of the University of Massachusetts-Boston, William S. Wood, has announced that he will support the establishment of community colleges in Massachusetts. Wood has been a strong advocate of the idea for several years.

State Action for Picking President
OCC Panel Raps Board

By GREGORY R. BYRNE

The OCC Board of Trustees yesterday approved a resolution calling for the resignation of the OCC Board of Trustees.

The resolution, introduced by OCC President William S. Wood, charges the board with failure to fulfill its responsibilities and with a lack of leadership in the community college system.

State Urges Overhaul of Colleges' Finances

The state Board of Education has recommended that the state take over the financial operations of the state's community colleges. The Board of Education has expressed concern about the current financial situation of the community colleges.

The Board of Education has recommended that the state take over the financial operations of the state's community colleges. The Board of Education has expressed concern about the current financial situation of the community colleges.

Community Colleges
Get Wood's Support

By GREGORY R. BYRNE

The president of the University of Massachusetts-Boston, William S. Wood, has announced that he will support the establishment of community colleges in Massachusetts. Wood has been a strong advocate of the idea for several years.
On Women As Parents, Singles, Workers, Children

A series of educational discussion groups on "Women in Transition," will be conducted by the Worcester City Council, the National Council of Jewish Women, in October and November. The project will be introduced at a general meeting on 8 p.m. Thursday at the Jewish Community Center in Worcester, 61 Saltonly St. Lynn Center of New York City, author of the forthcoming book, "Women," will speak.

Both the general meeting and the discussion groups are open to the public. There is no charge for Thursday's program. The fee for the weekly seminars for eight consecutive weeks will be $1.50 for members and $2.00 for others. Each group will be limited in size, and registration will be on a first-come basis.

This project is preventive in nature and develops training, according to Gayle R. Goldin, director, and in design and structure, given through the course of experience. If the project is successful, the council hopes to extend it in cooperation with the Worcester County Health Department. The discussion group will be held in most institutions in municipal, state, and local government, and community centers.

The Topic

"PARENTING, PRESCHOOL"

Registration will be from 7:30 to 8:45 p.m. Wednesdays, beginning Oct. 5, at the National Trust Center, 61 Saltonly St.

The topic will be "Parenting, Preschool." The group will discuss and explore ways to prepare children for school. The discussion will focus on the needs and wants of preschool-aged children and ways to provide a positive learning environment.

Faculties to Discuss

The evening panel will be held on October 15, 1976, at the National Trust Center, 61 Saltonly St. The panel will consist of four faculty members from local institutions: Dr. W. Smith, University of Massachusetts; Dr. J. Brown, Worcester State College; Dr. M. Davis, Clark University; and Dr. L. Johnson, University of Rhode Island.

The discussion will focus on the impact of technology on the students of the future. The panelists will explore the role of technology in education, the ethical implications of educational technology, and the responsibilities of educators in preparing students for the future.

Strategy for Strikes

By GREGORY P. BARNES

Faculty preparations for the upcoming academic year are well underway at many colleges and universities across the country. The National Council for the Humanities and the American Council on Education report that over 70 percent of all faculty are prepared for the upcoming academic year.

The Worcester City Council (WCC) has recently proposed a new plan for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1976. The plan includes an increase in faculty salaries of 5 percent, with an additional 5 percent increase for faculty members with over 10 years of experience.

The new plan is expected to provide a significant improvement in the faculty's compensation package. The faculty is currently negotiating the terms of their contract, which is set to expire in June 1976.

Without the approval of the faculty, the plan cannot be implemented. The WCC is actively seeking faculty support for the plan and is willing to make further concessions to secure their approval.

Negotiations are expected to continue until a mutually acceptable agreement is reached. The faculty is being urged to carefully consider the proposed plan before making a decision.

On Women As Parents, Singles, Workers, Children

The series of lectures on "Women in Transition," will be conducted by the Worcester City Council, the National Council of Jewish Women, in October and November. The project will be introduced at a general meeting on 8 p.m. Thursday at the Jewish Community Center in Worcester, 61 Saltonly St. Lynn Center of New York City, author of the forthcoming book, "Women," will speak.

Both the general meeting and the discussion groups are open to the public. There is no charge for Thursday's program. The fee for the weekly seminars for eight consecutive weeks will be $1.50 for members and $2.00 for others. Each group will be limited in size, and registration will be on a first-come basis.

This project is preventive in nature and develops training, according to Gayle R. Goldin, director, and in design and structure, given through the course of experience. If the project is successful, the council hopes to extend it in cooperation with the Worcester County Health Department. The discussion group will be held in most institutions in municipal, state, and local government, and community centers.

The Topic

"PARENTING, PRESCHOOL"

Registration will be from 7:30 to 8:45 p.m. Wednesdays, beginning Oct. 5, at the National Trust Center, 61 Saltonly St.

The topic will be "Parenting, Preschool." The group will discuss and explore ways to prepare children for school. The discussion will focus on the needs and wants of preschool-aged children and ways to provide a positive learning environment.

Faculties to Discuss

The evening panel will be held on October 15, 1976, at the National Trust Center, 61 Saltonly St. The panel will consist of four faculty members from local institutions: Dr. W. Smith, University of Massachusetts; Dr. J. Brown, Worcester State College; Dr. M. Davis, Clark University; and Dr. L. Johnson, University of Rhode Island.

The discussion will focus on the impact of technology on the students of the future. The panelists will explore the role of technology in education, the ethical implications of educational technology, and the responsibilities of educators in preparing students for the future.

Strategy for Strikes

By GREGORY P. BARNES

Faculty preparations for the upcoming academic year are well underway at many colleges and universities across the country. The National Council for the Humanities and the American Council on Education report that over 70 percent of all faculty are prepared for the upcoming academic year.

The Worcester City Council (WCC) has recently proposed a new plan for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1976. The plan includes an increase in faculty salaries of 5 percent, with an additional 5 percent increase for faculty members with over 10 years of experience.

The new plan is expected to provide a significant improvement in the faculty's compensation package. The faculty is currently negotiating the terms of their contract, which is set to expire in June 1976.

Without the approval of the faculty, the plan cannot be implemented. The WCC is actively seeking faculty support for the plan and is willing to make further concessions to secure their approval.

Negotiations are expected to continue until a mutually acceptable agreement is reached. The faculty is being urged to carefully consider the proposed plan before making a decision.

On Women As Parents, Singles, Workers, Children

The series of lectures on "Women in Transition," will be conducted by the Worcester City Council, the National Council of Jewish Women, in October and November. The project will be introduced at a general meeting on 8 p.m. Thursday at the Jewish Community Center in Worcester, 61 Saltonly St. Lynn Center of New York City, author of the forthcoming book, "Women," will speak.

Both the general meeting and the discussion groups are open to the public. There is no charge for Thursday's program. The fee for the weekly seminars for eight consecutive weeks will be $1.50 for members and $2.00 for others. Each group will be limited in size, and registration will be on a first-come basis.

This project is preventive in nature and develops training, according to Gayle R. Goldin, director, and in design and structure, given through the course of experience. If the project is successful, the council hopes to extend it in cooperation with the Worcester County Health Department. The discussion group will be held in most institutions in municipal, state, and local government, and community centers.

The Topic

"PARENTING, PRESCHOOL"

Registration will be from 7:30 to 8:45 p.m. Wednesdays, beginning Oct. 5, at the National Trust Center, 61 Saltonly St.

The topic will be "Parenting, Preschool." The group will discuss and explore ways to prepare children for school. The discussion will focus on the needs and wants of preschool-aged children and ways to provide a positive learning environment.

Faculties to Discuss

The evening panel will be held on October 15, 1976, at the National Trust Center, 61 Saltonly St. The panel will consist of four faculty members from local institutions: Dr. W. Smith, University of Massachusetts; Dr. J. Brown, Worcester State College; Dr. M. Davis, Clark University; and Dr. L. Johnson, University of Rhode Island.

The discussion will focus on the impact of technology on the students of the future. The panelists will explore the role of technology in education, the ethical implications of educational technology, and the responsibilities of educators in preparing students for the future.

Strategy for Strikes

By GREGORY P. BARNES

Faculty preparations for the upcoming academic year are well underway at many colleges and universities across the country. The National Council for the Humanities and the American Council on Education report that over 70 percent of all faculty are prepared for the upcoming academic year.

The Worcester City Council (WCC) has recently proposed a new plan for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1976. The plan includes an increase in faculty salaries of 5 percent, with an additional 5 percent increase for faculty members with over 10 years of experience.

The new plan is expected to provide a significant improvement in the faculty's compensation package. The faculty is currently negotiating the terms of their contract, which is set to expire in June 1976.

Without the approval of the faculty, the plan cannot be implemented. The WCC is actively seeking faculty support for the plan and is willing to make further concessions to secure their approval.

Negotiations are expected to continue until a mutually acceptable agreement is reached. The faculty is being urged to carefully consider the proposed plan before making a decision.

On Women As Parents, Singles, Workers, Children

The series of lectures on "Women in Transition," will be conducted by the Worcester City Council, the National Council of Jewish Women, in October and November. The project will be introduced at a general meeting on 8 p.m. Thursday at the Jewish Community Center in Worcester, 61 Saltonly St. Lynn Center of New York City, author of the forthcoming book, "Women," will speak.

Both the general meeting and the discussion groups are open to the public. There is no charge for Thursday's program. The fee for the weekly seminars for eight consecutive weeks will be $1.50 for members and $2.00 for others. Each group will be limited in size, and registration will be on a first-come basis.

This project is preventive in nature and develops training, according to Gayle R. Goldin, director, and in design and structure, given through the course of experience. If the project is successful, the council hopes to extend it in cooperation with the Worcester County Health Department. The discussion group will be held in most institutions in municipal, state, and local government, and community centers.

The Topic

"PARENTING, PRESCHOOL"

Registration will be from 7:30 to 8:45 p.m. Wednesdays, beginning Oct. 5, at the National Trust Center, 61 Saltonly St.

The topic will be "Parenting, Preschool." The group will discuss and explore ways to prepare children for school. The discussion will focus on the needs and wants of preschool-aged children and ways to provide a positive learning environment.

Faculties to Discuss

The evening panel will be held on October 15, 1976, at the National Trust Center, 61 Saltonly St. The panel will consist of four faculty members from local institutions: Dr. W. Smith, University of Massachusetts; Dr. J. Brown, Worcester State College; Dr. M. Davis, Clark University; and Dr. L. Johnson, University of Rhode Island.

The discussion will focus on the impact of technology on the students of the future. The panelists will explore the role of technology in education, the ethical implications of educational technology, and the responsibilities of educators in preparing students for the future.
U.S. Orders Quinsig To Give Back Money

By GREGORY R. STONE

Secretary of the Treasury, Henry M. Fowler, ordered the关闭 of the college's financial operations, effective immediately. Fowler's action, he said, was necessary to prevent the college from being a "source of financial loss to the country." The college has been under investigation for alleged misuse of federal funds for several months.

The college, located in Quinsigamond, a small town in Massachusetts, has been operating on a deficit budget for several years. Despite efforts to balance the books, the college has continued to accrue debt, leading to the current situation.

The college had been operating under a federal grant program, which was designed to help fund educational programs. However, the college had been using the funds for non-educational purposes, leading to the investigation.

The college has been given 30 days to repay the money it has received from the federal government. If the college fails to comply, it will face legal action.

Ex-Manager Thefts

Robert Smith, the former manager of the college, has been arrested on charges of stealing money from the college. Smith, who was fired last year, has been accused of embezzling funds from the college's financial accounts.

The college has been operating under a deficit budget for several years, and the situation has led to the investigation of the college's financial operations. Smith's thefts have added to the college's financial problems.

The college has been given 30 days to repay the money it has received from the federal government. If the college fails to comply, it will face legal action.

College Dean In Maryland To Head QCC

Vince Martin, the current dean of the college, has been appointed to head the new college. Martin has been at the college for several years and has been a strong advocate for the college's financial stability.

The college has been operating under a deficit budget for several years, and the situation has led to the investigation of the college's financial operations. Martin's appointment is seen as a step towards improving the college's financial situation.

The college has been given 30 days to repay the money it has received from the federal government. If the college fails to comply, it will face legal action.
Receipts Missing From OCC Trust Fund

The Evening Gazette

Trust Fund Receipts Missing

By GREGORY H. STRYK

The Gazette

OCC Trust Fund Probe

Food Orders Made Caterers Envious

Gourmet Foods Were Ordered for Quinsigamond by Manager

Independent Audit Finds Gaps in

Records of Trust Fund

The Pressing Gazette

OCT 8 1976

New England Norman

FORUM

NEW PRESIDENT

By DOROTHY J. DOWNS

A joint meeting of the Massachusetts Board of Regents for Higher Education in July named Dr. Robert F. Preclo as the new president of the Massachusetts College of Art and Design.

Dr. Preclo's appointment is the result of a search conducted by the college's search committee, which included members of the Board of Regents, representatives from the Massachusetts Department of Education, and members of the college faculty and staff.

Dr. Preclo, who has been serving as the college's provost since 1998, will assume the presidency on August 1, 2023.

The search committee reviewed over 100 candidates, including internal candidates and external candidates from across the country.

The college's search committee has been working closely with the Massachusetts Board of Regents to ensure a smooth transition to Dr. Preclo's leadership.

The college's new president has worked in various capacities within the college, including as a professor of art history and as the dean of the college's School of Art and Design.

Dr. Preclo has also served as the interim president of the Massachusetts College of Art and Design since 2017.

The college's search committee has been working closely with the Massachusetts Board of Regents to ensure a smooth transition to Dr. Preclo's leadership.

In other news, the college has received a donation of $1.2 million from an anonymous donor to support the college's endowment.

The donation will be used to support the college's academic programs and student scholarships.

The college has also announced a new partnership with the Massachusetts Museum of Fine Arts to provide students with opportunities to intern and study at the museum.

The partnership will provide students with access to the museum's extensive collection of art and design, as well as opportunities to work with museum staff and curators.

The college's new president has also announced a new initiative to support the college's international programs, which will include a new study abroad program in Paris.

The program will provide students with the opportunity to study at some of France's top art and design schools, including the Ecole des Beaux-Arts and the Université Paris-Sorbonne.

The college's new president has also announced a new initiative to support the college's international programs, which will include a new study abroad program in Paris.

The program will provide students with the opportunity to study at some of France's top art and design schools, including the Ecole des Beaux-Arts and the Université Paris-Sorbonne.

The college's new president has also announced a new initiative to support the college's international programs, which will include a new study abroad program in Paris.

The program will provide students with the opportunity to study at some of France's top art and design schools, including the Ecole des Beaux-Arts and the Université Paris-Sorbonne.
Quinsig to Appeal Order on Grant

QUINSIG TO APPEAL ORDER ON GRANT

The Massachusetts Board of Regional Community Colleges is appealing the order of the Department of Health Education and Welfare which returned the $50,000 grant to the college.

The college is appealing the order of the Department of Health Education and Welfare which returned the $50,000 grant to the college.

Community College Strike Threat Dims

OCC Unit Asks Dukakis
To Intervene in Dispute

Colleges Ask
Budget Increases

Harney Resigns at Quinsig
Harney Resigns at Quinsig

Maryland Dean Named to Head Quinsigmond

Return of Funds

Management Team Starts Quinsig Probe

By GREGORY P. BYRNE

The Massachusetts Board of Regents for Higher Education yesterday appointed a management team to investigate the finances and operations of the Quinsigamond Community College. The team, headed by Mr. David J. T. Hamilton, will review the college's administration and policies, and will make recommendations to the college board.

The team will be comprised of five members, including an accountant, a financial analyst, and a legal expert. They will have access to all college records, and will have the power to interview any college employees.

The appointment of the team follows a series of allegations of financial improprieties at the college, including alleged fraud and misuse of funds.

"We are committed to ensuring that the college operates in a transparent and accountable manner," said Mr. Hamilton. "Our goal is to identify any areas of concern and to make recommendations to the college board that will help to enhance the college's financial stability and operations."
FSC Faculty Slates Meeting With Board

The FSC College faculty is expected to reconvene in the near future to discuss and negotiate the terms of their upcoming contract with the university. The meeting will likely address several key issues, including academic freedom, salary and benefits, and teaching load.

Meanwhile, the FSC has announced that they will be hosting a "Field Day" event on Saturday, which will feature a variety of activities and workshops designed to improve the overall campus experience.

New president named for Quinsigamond

A new president has been named for Quinsigamond Community College, effective immediately. The appointment of Dr. Donald L. Thomas as president of Quinsigamond Community College was announced by the college's board of trustees on Wednesday.

Community college strike vote taken

The Faculty Council of Worcester Community College has voted overwhelmingly in favor of a strike vote. The vote was held on Thursday, with 90% of the faculty members voting in favor of the strike.

The strike vote was the result of ongoing negotiations between the college and the faculty union. The union has been seeking to improve the working conditions and compensation for its members for several months.

The college administration has expressed concern about the impact of a strike on students and the community, and is urging both sides to continue working towards a resolution.

The 24th District: A 3-Way Contest

The race for the 24th District seat in the Massachusetts House of Representatives is heating up. Three candidates are vying for the seat, each with their own unique backgrounds and platforms.

The candidates are

- John Smith
- Elizabeth Miller
- Mary Brown

The race has been particularly competitive, with all three candidates vowing to represent the district well if elected.

The incumbent in the district is

- Robert Davis

Davis has held the seat for several years and is seeking re-election.

The district includes a mix of urban and rural areas, and the candidates are expected to focus on issues such as education, healthcare, and economic development.

The election is scheduled for

- November 8, 2022

Voters are encouraged to research the candidates and make an informed decision on Election Day.
OCC Cafeteria Operation Under Probe

State Police
Quinsigamond Inquiry Over

Panel to evaluate college

Bartley new acting head of Quinsigamond College

New president named for college hit by mismanagement charges

Senior' coeds add to classes

MEDICARE Social Security
Probe charges poor management at community college

State Board Votes Audits at Colleges

The Evening Gazette 11/13/76

By GREGORY R. MONROE

In the last issue, the Board of Trustees of the New England Community College in Northborough, Mass., took a major step toward the improvement of the college's system of governance and accountability. The board, under the leadership of Chairman John H. Bacon, announced that it had approved a new policy requiring the appointment of an independent auditor to conduct annual audits of the college's financial statements and to report on the effectiveness of the college's internal controls.

The new policy, which will go into effect next year, is an important step in ensuring the financial integrity of the college. The board has recognized that it is essential to have a strong, independent audit function to provide assurance that the college's financial resources are being used effectively and efficiently.

The board's decision reflects a commitment to transparency and accountability. The college's leaders have recognized that the public expects the institution to be held to high standards of financial management and that the college must be open and accountable to the people it serves.

This policy will not only help to ensure the financial integrity of the college, but it will also help to build trust and confidence in the college's leaders. The college's leaders have demonstrated a commitment to openness and transparency, and this new policy is a clear indication of their willingness to take the necessary steps to ensure the financial integrity of the college.

As the college prepares to enter this new era of financial management, it can be confident that it will be able to provide the high-quality education that its students expect and deserve.

-- John H. Bacon, Chairman
Board of Trustees
QC Preus Yields Right to College Post

Machinist Jobs Available Running a College...

November 21, 1973 The Worcester Sunday Telegram

Quinsigamond Hopes to Begin Anew

By JOE A. TOWNE

Quinsigamond Community College is getting closer to being a reality as the Board of Trustees, faculty, and staff prepare for the opening of the college in September 1974. The college is located on a 200-acre site in Shrewsbury and will offer associate degrees in a variety of fields, including business, technology, and health sciences. The college is expected to enroll 2,000 students by the fall of 1974.

Quinsigamond Nurtures Its Hopes

Supported by state and federal funds, Quinsigamond is on the verge of becoming a reality. The college is on track to open its doors in September 1974, with the first class enrolling in January 1975. The college will offer associate degrees in a variety of fields, including business, technology, and health sciences.

OIC Students and Faculty Express Fear

Hope and Confidence

By JOE A. TOWNE

OIC students and faculty are expressing their fears and hopes for the future. Many are concerned about the state of the economy and the impact it will have on their lives. However, others are optimistic about the opportunities that lie ahead.

Arthur E. Chase

In Worcester Telegram, December 12, 1973
New Coaches, New Name
On Junior College Scene

By HUGH MCGRORY
of the Telegram Staff

Worcester, Mass. — The following is a list of new coaches and new names for the Junior College basketball and football teams:

- Worcester Junior College: Coach John O'Brien, who takes over from former Coach Jerry Healy, who has accepted a position at a football team in New York.
- Quinsigamond Junior College: Coach Bob Jenkins, who takes over from former Coach Tom Smith, who has accepted a position at a football team in Ohio.
- Massachusetts College of Art: Coach Mike Johnson, who takes over from former Coach Jim Brown, who has accepted a position at a football team in Boston.

Worcester JC

Quinsigamond CC

Massachusetts College of Art

Top Officials Cited
In Report on QCC

The Evening Gazette

By GREGORY SYKES

The state education board has released a report on the operations of Quinsigamond Community College (QCC), identifying several areas for improvement.

The report, which was requested by the state board after a media investigation, found issues with the college's financial management and curriculum offerings.

No Personal Gain

The investigation also found that the college paid its president, Robert Farrell, a total of $400,000 over the past three years, despite having only one full-time faculty member.

No Incentives

The report also cited a lack of incentives for faculty members, with many feeling overworked and underappreciated.

No Accountability

The college's governing board has refused to disclose the contents of the report, citing confidentiality.

top Officials Cited

In Report on QCC

Top Officials Cited
In Report on QCC

Outside of America

Quinsigamond Community College

Top Officials Cited
In Report on QCC

Agby Saves Quinsigamond

The Evening Gazette

By GREGORY SYKES

In response to the report, Quinsigamond Community College (QCC) has announced a series of reforms to address the issues highlighted.

The college has appointed a new president, Agby Williams, who is committed to improving the college's financial and academic performance.

Williams has promised to cut costs and improve the college's financial management, as well as to increase the number of full-time faculty members.

In addition, the college has established a new curriculum to better meet the needs of students, with a focus on vocational and technical programs.

The college has also established a new student support program to provide additional resources and guidance to students.

Williams has expressed his commitment to ensuring that the college is held accountable for its actions, and has pledged to keep the college's financial management and academic offerings transparent.

Williams has also expressed his commitment to ensuring that the college is held accountable for its actions, and has pledged to keep the college's financial management and academic offerings transparent.
Quinsigamond to Return $15,000 to Its Students

Ex-Employee Rejects Quinsigamond Offer

Dean to Return to Teaching

Dean of Students' 7 Years

Quinsigamond Accreditation Threatened by Library
OCC Coaches Reading to Those 'Blind' to Letters

By JON B. TOWE

the Morning Call

The concern is that Quinsigamond Community College has helped social and emotional development.

Students who have experienced reading difficulties are often shy and self-conscious, but they can improve their reading skills with practice. Reading to blind students can help them feel more comfortable and confident in their own abilities.

Quinsigamond Community College is considering a new program to help blind students improve their reading skills. This program will provide reading materials and training for students who have experienced reading difficulties. In addition, the college will offer individualized support to help students improve their reading skills.

The program is designed to help blind students improve their reading skills and feel more comfortable with their abilities. The college has already had success in helping students who have experienced reading difficulties improve their reading skills. With the help of the new program, the college hopes to continue this success and provide even more support for its students.

-wage QCC -

Barth Wottsmn

The morning Call

Quinsigamond News: Like Soap Opera

Why didn't you report on the Invisible Man who was found in his apartment? We didn't know about the Invisible Man until his rent was due. The Invisible Man was able to escape his invisible state and pay his rent. This is why we didn't report on him.

Swett's College of Technology

Quinsigamond Community College is a leader in technical education. With programs ranging from computer science to automotive technology, the college is dedicated to preparing students for success in their chosen fields.

The college's new automotive technology program is offering students hands-on experience with the latest technology. Students will have the opportunity to work on cars and learn about the latest in automotive repair. This program will help students gain the skills they need to succeed in the automotive industry.

The college's computer science program is also offering new opportunities for students. With the increasing demand for technology professionals, this program is designed to prepare students for success in the field.

-

Career Guidance Workshop Topic

There is a new career guidance workshop topic that has been added to the college's offerings. This workshop will focus on helping students navigate the job market and identify potential career paths. The workshop will cover topics such as resume writing and interviewing techniques.

The workshop is open to all students and is a great opportunity to gain valuable career guidance.

Petit a OCC -

Quinsigamond News: Like Soap Opera

Why didn't you report on the Invisible Man who was found in his apartment? We didn't know about the Invisible Man until his rent was due. The Invisible Man was able to escape his invisible state and pay his rent. This is why we didn't report on him.
Community Colleges Aim for a Tight Ship

By GREGORY F. KYNES

Community colleges have the budget problems that hamper many local industries. The colleges are faced with the same challenges as businesses, and they are looking for ways to cut costs and improve efficiency. One solution is to streamline operations and reduce waste.

The college administration is working on a plan to reduce the number of faculty members and cut unnecessary expenses. They have identified several areas where they can make cuts, including the maintenance department and the custodial staff. They are also exploring the possibility of outsourcing some services, such as food service and groundskeeping.

The college is also looking at ways to improve student retention. They have implemented a new student success program that includes academic coaching and counseling services. Students who are at risk of dropping out are given extra support to help them stay in school.

In an interview, the college president said, "We are committed to providing our students with a high-quality education at a reasonable cost. We recognize that we need to be more efficient and effective in our operations in order to meet that goal.

The college is working closely with the state to secure additional funding. They are also exploring other revenue sources, such as partnerships with local businesses. They are hopeful that these efforts will help them weather the current economic challenges.

In conclusion, community colleges are facing difficult times, but they are determined to find ways to continue providing quality education to their students. They are committed to being good stewards of their resources and to serving the needs of their communities.

CONTACT

This column is produced by Community College Times, a national publication that covers issues affecting community colleges. Please contact us at (555) 555-5555 or info@communitycollegetimes.com.
Quinsigamond Outreach Center

Latinos Find Help Getting Into College

By Laverne Dickson

Many prospects face obstacles when trying to get into college, but the Community Outreach Center at Quinsigamond Community College has been helping Latinos get into college with the help of their Outreach Director, Ana Maria Perez. She says that many of the students she helps are not aware of the opportunities available to them.

Perez states that the Outreach Center is focused on helping students who are interested in higher education. She emphasizes the importance of education and the role it plays in shaping one's future.

For more information, contact Ana Maria Perez at 508-793-1000 or mperez@qcc.mass.edu.

Probing by State Board Continues at Quinsigamond

The state's only community college system, Quinsigamond Community College, is facing criticism from state legislators and community groups. The college has been under scrutiny for its spending and budgeting practices.

The controversy centers on the college's decision to purchase a new $5 million building for a new nursing program. The college's Board of Trustees approved the purchase, but some state legislators have called for an investigation into the decision.

The college's president, Dr. Richard L. Prevot, has defended the decision, saying that it will help the college meet the needs of the region.

Tuition and Fees

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>College</th>
<th>Tuition and Fees</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Worcester State College</td>
<td>$3,250</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Springfield College</td>
<td>$3,250</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mount Wachusett Community</td>
<td>$3,250</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Massachusetts College</td>
<td>$3,250</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Quinsigamond Community College</td>
<td>$3,250</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>University of Massachusetts</td>
<td>$3,250</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Students Aplenty if Nursing School Moves Here

By Barbara M. Hoyle

The possible move of the Quinsigamond Community College nursing school to Worcester was discussed in a meeting of the college administration and was met with a large number of students seeking nursing education here.

A survey of nursing schools and school officials in Quinsigamond Community College indicated that the college might be interested in having the nursing program moved to Worcester. The college administration has been discussing the possibility of establishing a new nursing program in the near future.

Panel Seeks Changes For QCC

By Gregory B. Stones

The QCC will be in the process of acquiring additional campus facilities this year, but there has been no indication from the state that the college will receive any funds for these purposes. The college administration is currently working on a master plan for the campus that will be submitted to the state for approval.

Nursing School Would Aid Students

By而且

The nursing school at Quinsigamond Community College will be moving to Worcester, according to Dr. Goodwin. The move will provide additional space and facilities for the nursing program.

The nursing school at QCC has been experiencing a significant increase in enrollment, and the move to Worcester will help alleviate the current space constraints. The move is expected to be completed by the end of the current academic year.

Ongoing Break Ends

The students have returned to the college after a break from the last day. The administration is working on plans to return to the regular schedule.

The current break has caused a lack of organization on the campus, and the administration is working on plans to return to the regular schedule.

Ongoing Break Ends

The students have returned to the college after a break from the last day. The administration is working on plans to return to the regular schedule.
Quinsig. Eves Tourney

Quinsig Health Fair is this Sunday, March 21st, with secure at 10:00 AM. The fair will be held in the High School auditorium, and will feature various health-related services and workshops. Attendees can expect to find information on topics such as nutrition, exercise, and mental health. The fair is open to all, and admission is free.

Quinsig Advances In N.E. Baseball

Ed Jones scored an unassisted field goal with 3 seconds left to give the Quinsig Community College baseball team a 3-2 victory over the rival College of the Holy Cross. The win improved the Quinsig record to 9-3 on the season.

Local Colleges Still Have Vacancies for Commuters

It is not too late to apply for college, according to the Regional Educational Opportunity Center of Massachusetts. The center reports that there are still openings available in many programs. Interested students should contact the Regional Educational Opportunity Center for more information.

More to Censure QCC Faculty Tables

A motion to censure Quinsig Community College faculty member Prof. John Smith was tabled due to lack of quorum. The motion will be reconsidered at the next faculty meeting.

OCC Strike Threat
It'll Be Classes As Usual

By GREGORY K. BRINES
The Times
Quinsig Community College's 1,200 students are about to go on strike after a long debate over salary. Faculty and administration have not been able to come to an agreement.

Quinsig President Honored

BC Worcester Sunday Telegram
March 15, 1977

BC Worcester Sunday Telegram
April 27, 1977

The Monocrat Sunday Telegram
February 27, 1977

Quinsig Health Fair is this Sunday, March 21st, with secure at 10:00 AM. The fair will be held in the High School auditorium, and will feature various health-related services and workshops. Attendees can expect to find information on topics such as nutrition, exercise, and mental health. The fair is open to all, and admission is free.

Quinsig Advances In N.E. Baseball

Ed Jones scored an unassisted field goal with 3 seconds left to give the Quinsig Community College baseball team a 3-2 victory over the rival College of the Holy Cross. The win improved the Quinsig record to 9-3 on the season.

Local Colleges Still Have Vacancies for Commuters

It is not too late to apply for college, according to the Regional Educational Opportunity Center of Massachusetts. The center reports that there are still openings available in many programs. Interested students should contact the Regional Educational Opportunity Center for more information.

More to Censure QCC Faculty Tables

A motion to censure Quinsig Community College faculty member Prof. John Smith was tabled due to lack of quorum. The motion will be reconsidered at the next faculty meeting.

OCC Strike Threat
It'll Be Classes As Usual

By GREGORY K. BRINES
The Times
Quinsig Community College's 1,200 students are about to go on strike after a long debate over salary. Faculty and administration have not been able to come to an agreement.
QCC’s Donato Warns Of Big Program Cuts

By Laverne Dunigan

The college’s Donato, budget coordinator for QCC, has been laying out the college’s financial situation. The college’s budget is currently facing cuts due to financial constraints.

Donato has stated that the college is facing a significant reduction in funding, which will affect the college’s programs and operations. The college has been able to maintain its programs and operations with the help of grants and donations, but these sources of funding have been decreasing.

The college is facing a reduction of $1 million in its budget, which will affect its programs and operations. The college is looking at ways to reduce its expenses and increase its revenue, but the situation is challenging.

QCC Faces Big Program Cuts

Section From Page One

Donato said that he has been working with the college’s administration to identify ways to reduce expenses and increase revenue. The college has been able to identify some areas where it can reduce expenses, but the college is still facing a significant reduction in funding.

In Our Opinion...

By Laverne Dunigan

The college’s Donato has been working with the college’s administration to identify ways to reduce expenses and increase revenue. The college has been able to identify some areas where it can reduce expenses, but the college is still facing a significant reduction in funding.

Donato said that he has been working with the college’s administration to identify ways to reduce expenses and increase revenue. The college has been able to identify some areas where it can reduce expenses, but the college is still facing a significant reduction in funding.

Saving the Community Colleges

By Laverne Dunigan

The college’s Donato has been working with the college’s administration to identify ways to reduce expenses and increase revenue. The college has been able to identify some areas where it can reduce expenses, but the college is still facing a significant reduction in funding.

The college’s Donato has been working with the college’s administration to identify ways to reduce expenses and increase revenue. The college has been able to identify some areas where it can reduce expenses, but the college is still facing a significant reduction in funding.

Quinsig Captures Twin Bill

By Laverne Dunigan

The college’s Donato has been working with the college’s administration to identify ways to reduce expenses and increase revenue. The college has been able to identify some areas where it can reduce expenses, but the college is still facing a significant reduction in funding.

The college’s Donato has been working with the college’s administration to identify ways to reduce expenses and increase revenue. The college has been able to identify some areas where it can reduce expenses, but the college is still facing a significant reduction in funding.

Rogers Bats Quinsigmond

By Laverne Dunigan

The college’s Donato has been working with the college’s administration to identify ways to reduce expenses and increase revenue. The college has been able to identify some areas where it can reduce expenses, but the college is still facing a significant reduction in funding.

The college’s Donato has been working with the college’s administration to identify ways to reduce expenses and increase revenue. The college has been able to identify some areas where it can reduce expenses, but the college is still facing a significant reduction in funding.

Gazette Reporter Is Given Award

By Laverne Dunigan

The college’s Donato has been working with the college’s administration to identify ways to reduce expenses and increase revenue. The college has been able to identify some areas where it can reduce expenses, but the college is still facing a significant reduction in funding.

The college’s Donato has been working with the college’s administration to identify ways to reduce expenses and increase revenue. The college has been able to identify some areas where it can reduce expenses, but the college is still facing a significant reduction in funding.

Chernisky to Run For City Council

By Laverne Dunigan

The college’s Donato has been working with the college’s administration to identify ways to reduce expenses and increase revenue. The college has been able to identify some areas where it can reduce expenses, but the college is still facing a significant reduction in funding.

The college’s Donato has been working with the college’s administration to identify ways to reduce expenses and increase revenue. The college has been able to identify some areas where it can reduce expenses, but the college is still facing a significant reduction in funding.

From Page One

The college’s Donato has been working with the college’s administration to identify ways to reduce expenses and increase revenue. The college has been able to identify some areas where it can reduce expenses, but the college is still facing a significant reduction in funding.

The college’s Donato has been working with the college’s administration to identify ways to reduce expenses and increase revenue. The college has been able to identify some areas where it can reduce expenses, but the college is still facing a significant reduction in funding.
Baseball No. 1 For Quinsig
Scoring Star

2/13/11

By NICK MANELLO
The Telegram Staff

Although he's one of the top scorers in junior college baseball, Agnoletti's Quinsig Community College's Tony Agnoletti would rather talk about the banana salad he enjoys.

Agnoletti is currently on a hot streak that has made him a key figure in the junior college's success. He saw the Agnoletti Hot Streak as he played in 18 games, scoring 20 points per game. Recently, he scored 36 points in a recent game, leading the team to victory. However, he's not looking to ahead, instead, he's happy to contribute to the team's success.

The Agnoletti Hot Streak is a reference to his performance in recent games.

New Residents at YWCA
Are 'On Their Own Again'

By JAMES W. HOLLAND

There's a new resident at the YWCA in New York City, and she's ready to take on the city on her own.

The new resident at the YWCA, a young woman from California, is looking forward to exploring the city and making new friends.

Chiefs, Playing Like a Million
Need $6,000

By DICK GERASOLO

The Chiefs are a small-town baseball team in Kansas. They're trying their best to raise money for a new field.

Rocky Johnson and his team are looking for donations from the community.

Quinsig Gains the Nationals

The Nationals are the top team in the junior college baseball division.

The Nationals are ready to take on the local team, the Quinsig Community College, in a huge game.

Y Continental Head

The Y Continental Head is a key figure in the community.

The Y Continental Head is promoting a health and fitness program for the community.

Continued Head

The Y Continental Head continues to promote the health and fitness program.

A Lot of Good Things

The Y Continental Head shares his thoughts on the community.

The Y Continental Head believes that the community has made great progress in recent years.
Quinsig Is Champion

Quinsig's Glinski Gets New Honor

Trip Leaves Quinsig Debt

QCC Teachers Vow To Withhold Grades

Jarosz Pitches Quinsig Past Cinder CC
Super Chiefs on Track

By DICK CENISKO

Super Chief's track team, which has been on fire all season, is on the verge of winning the state's first track title.

The team's victory in the meet against the competition was due to the efforts of several key players, including Dave Johnson, who set a new school record in the 440-yard dash.

"We've been working hard all season," Johnson said. "We've been pushing ourselves to be the best we can be."