New Career Directions in Today's Manufacturing

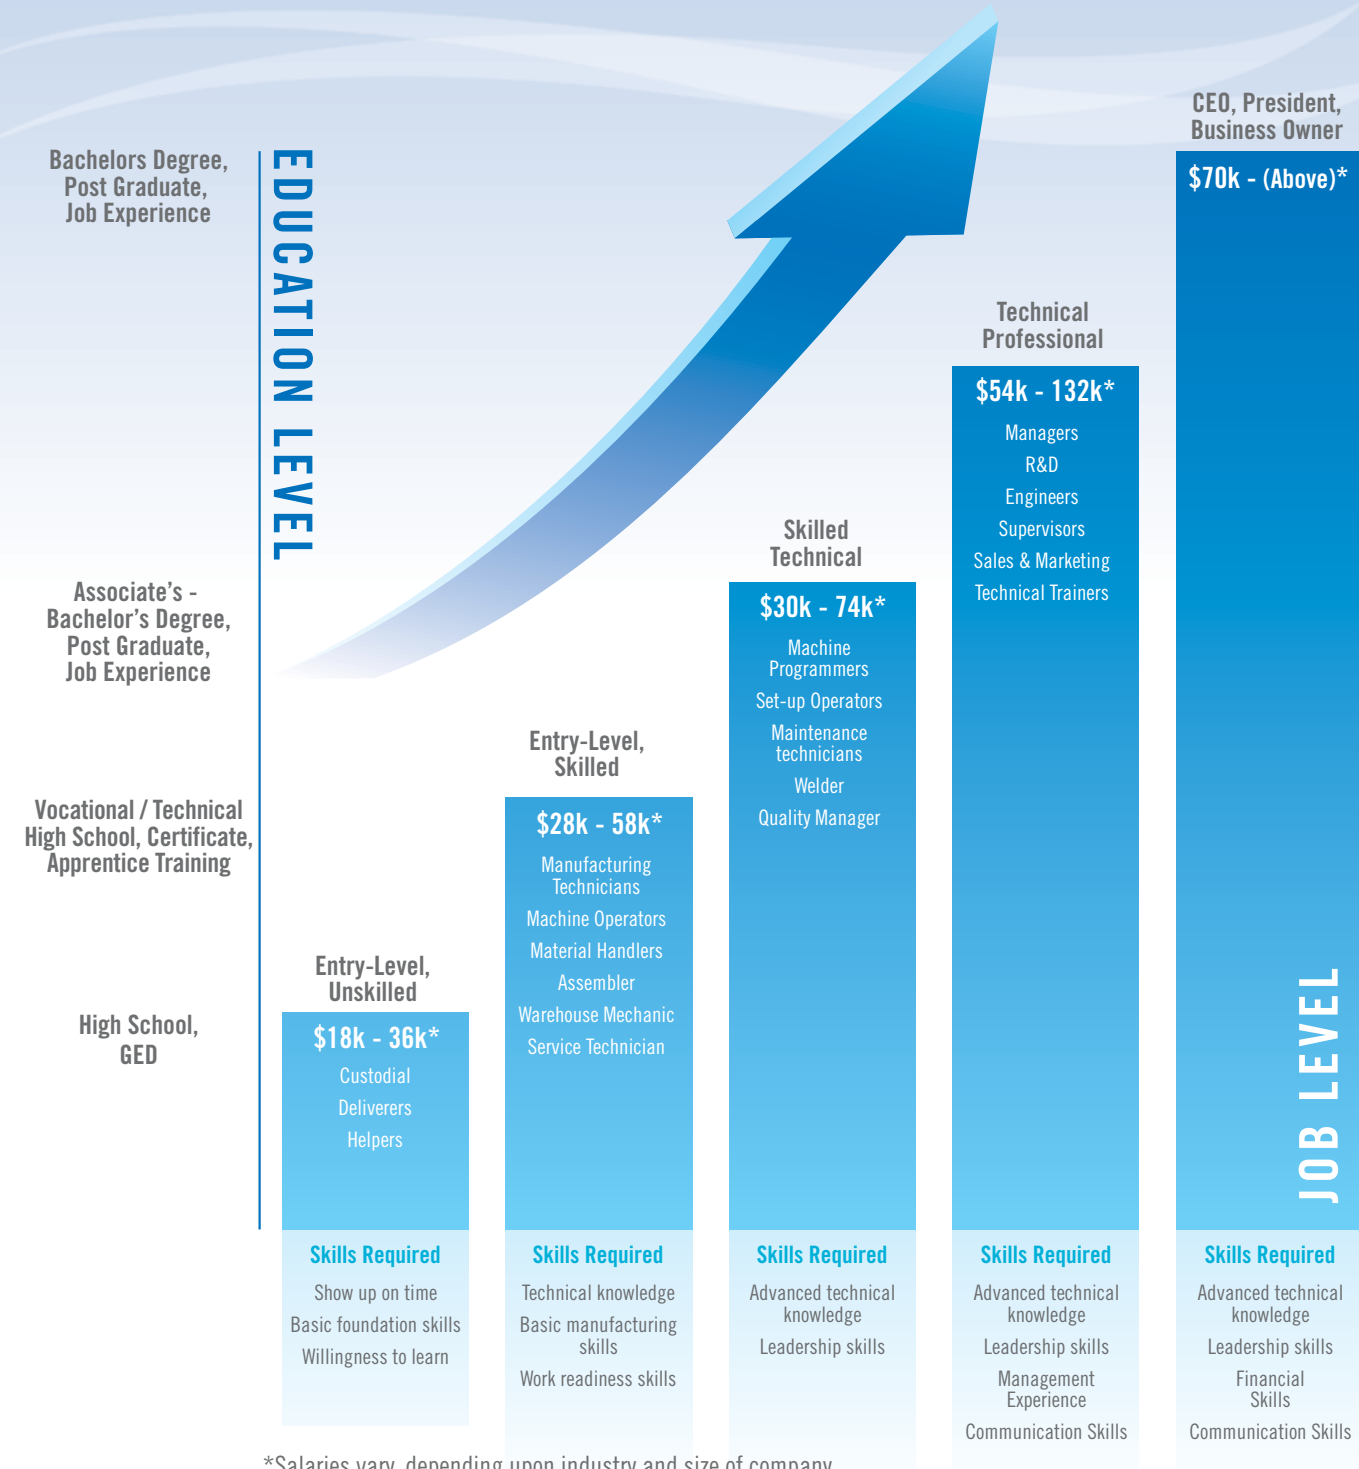

mass-tec.org

Advanced Manufacturing in Central Massachusetts has again become a viable career option with good job opportunities offering competitive salaries. The industry needs creative, driven people to fill a variety of challenging jobs in some of the most exciting industries imaginable. The opportunities are vast, the potential is there and the jobs are waiting for skilled workers.

- Manufacturing is one of the largest employment sectors in Central Massachusetts.
- Advanced educational and training opportunities will grow a worker's career, advance their skill sets and increase their earning potential.
- Today's advanced manufacturing opportunities will build the future in the Aerospace, BioTech, Medical, Defense, Healthcare, Technology, Renewable Energy and other in-demand markets.
- Job opportunities await in exciting areas such as engineering, quality assurance, sales and marketing, and more.
- With continued training and education, enjoy the potential for personal and professional growth.

“Advanced manufacturing utilizes technology in designing, manufacturing, or handling a product.”

— Navjeet Singh,
Commonwealth Corporation
