Quinsigamond Community College announced Thursday it would freeze its tuition and fees in 2021. “We are committed to making college affordable for anyone who wants to better their lives through higher education,” President Dr. Luis G. Pedraja said. QCC recently announced a return to in-person services in the fall, as well. QCC has also made emergency funds available to students and families affected by the COVID-19 pandemic. These funds can assist students in paying bills, obtaining laptops, Wi-Fi and other needs.
